Sir,

We the undersigned being informed that it is charged against B.S. Gaither, Supt. of the Br. Mint at this place, that he resides 60 miles from Charlotte, we certify this charge is not correct. He resides here, & has been ever since his appointment to that office. His family resided here part of the year; since that they have resided in Rowan N.C. Mr. Gaither occasionally visits that place, by which no inconvenience whatever can occur to Depositors. We have regularly deposited bullion in the Mint, & have always received our gold coin promptly.

Sir,

I have the pleasure to enclose the within Certificate of Five of the principal Merchants in this place, who are regular dealers in gold Bullion, & depositors at this Mint, and are the only Merchants of this place who deal in gold bullion except Mr. W. I shall not trouble you with any further testimony, but would be gratified that this Certificate, with the other testimony heretofore forwarded, could be placed on file in the Treasury Dept., when it can be referred to in future, as I cannot foresee when the efforts of malice will cease.

Sir,

I have to acknowledge the receipt of your letters of the 1st & 4th of April.

I have already informed you that my report to the Secretary of the Treasury, with regard to the charges against you, had been forwarded to the Department. It shall now be followed by the additional vouchers which you have sent.

Your report for March is received; and I am glad to learn that you have been able to succeed in bringing so promptly into operation the recent act of Congress transferring the duties of Melter and Refiner from the Assayer to the Coiner.

I approve of your suggestion as to Mr. Ferris, since it seems to be essential for the success of Mr. Bolton in his new Department of duty.

hope, however, that the most punctilious care will be taken so to employ him in the refinery as not to interfere with his giving assistance to the Assayer, when required. I am exceedingly anxious that peace and good will should reign in your establishment, and it was to prevent the possibility of collision that I suggested the exclusive appropriation of one hand to the Assayer. Still I acknowledge that there is great force in your remarks respecting the employment of Ferris, when time cannot, I presume, be occupied in sufficiently the manly assisting the Assayer, and where services seem to be essential in the pursuing operations. I have no doubt, therefore, consent that Dr. Gilbert will not object to the arrangement which you propose, provided that punctilious care be taken so to employ Mr. Ferris in the refinery, as not to interfere with his services as assistant to the Assayer whenever they may be required. I would therefore so far withdraw my instructions on this point, as to authorize you to require the services of the Assayer's Assistant to aid the Crucible to aid in the Refining, whenever they are not required in the Assay-room, — and that when this workman is then employed in the refining he be under the immediate orders of the Coiner.

Sir,

The Assay slips from the first melt of ingots made up by the new Acting Melter & Refiner has been twice ~~assayed~~ tested by our Assayers, with the following result.

Fine gold 911.5 Mm

Copper --- 5h.

Silver 43.5.

So that the report of your Assayer is fully confirmed.

In my letter of instructions of the 3d of March, I mentioned, that when the ~~new arrangement~~ transfer of the functions of Melter & Refiner should be made from the Assayer to the Coiner, the necessity of having the assays of the melts of ingots tested at this Mint would no longer exist. But as you have the immediate government of the ~~institution~~ Charlotte Branch under your charge, and have a corresponding responsibility extending to all its departments, it must follow I think that you have a right to use any proper means for satisfying yourself as to the accuracy and fidelity with which the operations if any of the officers conducted. I think therefore that Dr. Gibbons was wrong in throwing any difficulty in the way, ~~of~~ when you showed the very natural desire to have a test assay of the first Melt made by Mr. Bottrell. It is quite true that the assay slips all belong to the Melter & Refiner's account; but all difficulty may be avoided, as heretofore, by crediting him with the ~~amount~~ weight of any assay slip sent on to this Mint. I hope, however, that you will find it but ~~rarely expedient to make such remittances~~ seldom requisite that such test assays be made.

In regard to ~~the~~ ~~rem~~ an observation made at the close of your letter, I have to remark that it has never been the practice at this Mint for the Assayer to return the assay pieces to the Treasurer. The Melter & Refiner ~~has been already~~ is charged with the whole ~~deposite~~ bullion from which the assay is taken, and his ~~a~~ account is not credited with the amount of the assay piece. ~~thus taken~~. It is temporarily in the keeping of the Assayer, but it still belongs to the account of the Melter, and is returned to him by the Assayer, ~~from time to time~~, without passing through the Treasurer's books, or the Treasurer's hands.

Sir

I have not yet received your acknowledgement of the receipt of my reply, and the testimony forwarded, in the matter of the charge preferred against me to the President, and I did not intend troubling you with any further communication upon that subject, but have just learned that there is a secret move being made in a remote portion of this County, to get Certificates from obscure individuals — I have occasionally made deposites in this Mint, "that I have not been in the Mint, when they have made deposites."

This is a ruse, proceeding, as I believe from a certain clique in this Village, who will not stop at any thing to effect their purpose, and I shall not be surprized that they get some honest and unsuspecting men, to give them Certificates of this character. — It has been the usage of the Mint from its commencement, for the Clerk, to receive, weigh, and enter upon the Book, the Bullion of Depositors in the room he occupies, and my Office having no immediate connection with that room, it may very frequently occur, that I do not see the Depositor, nor is it necessary for his convenience that I should.

In the testimony I have sent you, I have confined myself to the statements of the Merchants dealers in gold bullion, Bank Officers and other Gentlemen of high character, who are in daily intercourse with me, and who are really interested in the prosperity of this Institution, and know all the facts connected with my residence and deportment here. — I have not deemed it necessary to procure the Certificate of every insignificant wretch about Town, and it may be that their statements may be taken and forwarded to yourself or the Treasury Department, I ask of you in case of a question of veracity arising, that you give me the names and character of the testimony, and I will dispel all doubts — If it is at all desireable, I will get the late Member of Congress from an adjoining District to endorse the high character of the Gentlemen, whose Statements I have sent you. Delicacy forbids my calling upon the late Member from this District, for the reason that he is looked upon as an Applicant for the Office —

He informs me that he wishes one pair of Quarter Eagle Dies forwarded, as those he has are failing by cracking, and that as Melter & Refiner he wishes the following articles which you will please have forwarded at your earliest convenience

3 large stone ware precipitating Jars

Sir,

Your assistant, Mr. Torres, brought to me the samples of sweeps mentioned in your letter of the 1st inst., and I have caused them to be assayed. The following is the report made to me.

"The sweep weight 0.75 oz. less than 24 oz. Troy. — A sample of 5 oz. was taken from each cannister, and worked separately, producing buttons ~~and~~ of corresponding weights. These were assayed, and were found to make the sweep of the value of $1 per Cwt. in silver, and of $1.96 per Cwt. in gold; and consequently the total value $2.96 per Cwt."

You see, from this result, that the sweep is too poor to pay the expense of smelting.

Sir

When I had the honor to write to you, on the 2d Instant, I supposed that my communication would close our official intercourse, but at the request of Mr Ferres, I am induced to write to you again. During the month of May, Mr Ferres was absent from the service of the Mint, on a visite to your City and I refused to pay him wages for that month. He is dissatisfied with my decission and wishes me to leave the question, in such a situation, that my successor can act upon it, under your instructions.

As I have been compelled to act upon this matter, after knowing that I was to be superseded in office and improper motives, might be assigned for my course, I have resolved, to report the facts to you and leave the question open, but I must not be understood as changing or revising my original determination, so far as my opinion is involved.

I have the honor to be yours, with my great respect

Sir,

~~I think~~ I have duly received your letters of the 23d & 24th. ~~and made immediate~~ I have made inquiry as to the orders which had been sent for articles for your Mint, and which you had not received. — Mr. Dunning, (my Clerk, who has charge of these matters,) informs me that the 12 carboys of nitric & 2 of sulphuric acid have been shipped, and that the other articles have been ordered, and the some of them are ready for shipment. They will not be neglected.

The accounts ~~with~~ between me and the Treasurer of the Charlotte Mint, for the quarter which ~~has just closed~~ ended yesterday, have been closed, and the balance in your favor is the same as at the last settlement, viz. $402.93, corresponding in amount to the two drafts of Mr. Gaither.

Sir

I have the honor of enclosing you the Report of the operations of this Branch of the Mint for the Month of July last, by which you will perceive, we have received a much larger amount of Bullion than in any preceding Month since the establishment of the Mint, and have carried out the wishes of the Secretary of the Treasury in coining Quarter Eagles entirely.

On Saturday last we received 14 Carboys of acid for the Refinery — but are completely out of pure acid for assays — not having enough to make a single assay with. If the acid Irequested to be sent in my letter of 23d. June has not yet been shipped, be pleased to despatch it immediately, as we are completely at a stand still, not being able to assay Deposits when presented, nor Ingots when prepared for Coinage.

Mr. Caldwell has been very sick for the last Month, and although now in a state of convalescence, is still too weak to attend much to business, I have therefore the honor of enclosing you the paper marked A, being an Exhibit of the Amount of Bullion received and Coinage executed at this Branch of the Mint for the Month of August.

We have received all the articles which were requested to be sent, with the exception of 3 large stone ware precipitating Jars, One cask of black lead pot covers, suitable for No. 30, & One section of Garden Hose, which the Melter & Refiner informs me he stands very much in need of. He also requests that 12 carboys of nitric acid and 300 lbs of Zinc be forwarded at your convenience, as the operations in the Refinery are so constant, that the supply on hand will not be sufficient to carry us further than the 1st of January next.

Sir,

By a letter from Mr. Strange, of the 4th inst.
I regret to learn that you have been confined by sickness, as you are reported to be convalescent however,
I hope that this letter may find you recovered.

Your Report for August is duly rec.

My Clerk Mr. Dunning, who has the Special charge of the purchases for the Br Mints, is at present away from the City, but I expect him back in three or four days, when the wants mentioned in Mr Strange's letter shall be immediately attended to.

A circular from the Register of the Treasury calls upon me for the usual estimates for the Mint and its Branches, for the half year ending 31 Dec 1845, and the half year ending 30 June 1846. I have to pray, then, that you will, at as early a day as practicable,
send me the estimate for your Mint.

In making them, you will please keep in view any probable balance that may remain of your present appropriations at the close of the current year.

Very respectfully,

Your faithful servant,

To the honourable R. M. Patterson. Director of the U. S. Mint at Philadelphia.

Dear Sir

I have lately received from Washington City a document containing various communications that took place between the superintendant for building the Branch Mint at Charlotte N. C. the Secretary of the Treasury and yourself concerning our claim for the ballance of an award rendered by three referees chosen by the Superintendant and ourselves It appears to me Sir that there is a great want of the knowledge of the facts concerning this matter by you; I will state one or two circumstances that may perhaps convince you that we acted perfectly under the direction of the Superintendant in all matters in carrying out the building of the branch mint at Charlotte. in the first place I will set you right in regard to the dificulty in getting suitable rock for the projection of the cornice as represented by Wm Strickland on a drawing of the cornice sent on by us through Maj McComb to you, which it appears you got Strickland to mark on that draft in what way it should be executed, on seeing his advice on the draft, and after looking out for suitable Rock we conceived that this dificulty existed in this way that the rock we had been splitting out for the range work, could not be gotten so thin as to suit without going to an unjustifiable expense, my own opinion was that the Job could be done with much less expense by hauling the rock from the quarry that we used than by getting the rock any where else, all persons that were acquainted with the circumstances concurred with me - as to cutting the rock, I know yourself or mr Strickland will admit that rough rock three feet long could not be had here at least; and laid on a brick wall to project one foot clear of the sea mole, without being made straight and also to be jointed in a rough manner at least, I conceive this much was indispensable, now sir as I said above, we were acting under the directions of your superintendent, who often said to us while preparing this rock, that we were doing it just as he wished it done, and he wished us to carry it out accordingly.

In the document refered to above, I see that mr McComb says he was authorized to have his work done by the director of the U. S. Mint at Philadelphia and Col Wheeler says that as far as he is able to judge, it is built precisely according to the model and drawings furnished. and of the best materials the nature of the Country would admit of. Mr Peale after making inquiries of me and examining the building said that it was built to the letter.

and further sir I see, which gives me pleasure, that in answer to Secy Woodburys letter to you that you would not persevere in your Objection to the payment of the award made by the Referees for the cornice, this being the case I am at a loss to know why the money was not paid, as I conceived the Secretary was impowered by your letter to pay the amount of the award

Now sir from all the circumstances connected with this affair it seems that you have it in your power to have us paid.

and I think when you consider all the circumstances of the case, examine the contract and the draughts furnished, you will see clearly that we are legally and justly intitled to our award and further, you will observe the reduced price for which we built the Mint and also that I did not make one dollar on the Job, all these Things I hope will convince you that I ought not to be kept out of the money longer and should I receive the amount of the award it certainly would not remunerate me for the loss I sustained in erecting that building.

I hope therefore that you will be good enough to interfere for me and have me paid, this course will save me the trouble and expense of going to Washington City to have Justice done me Dear Sir I am sure that you would at once do me full Justice if you knew all the circumstances of this matter, which I could not explain to you on one sheet of paper, but as you know some things and have agreed to not object farther, I hope you will now direct the money to be paid over to me, this I think Sir will be doing me Justice and also conferring a very great favour. Oblige me by answering this letter as soon as possible and favourably if you can. I am Sir Yours most respectfully

U. States Branch Mint
Charlotte N.C.a 7th October 1843.

Sir

Your favor of the 11th Ulto, requesting me to furnish you with the estimates, for this Branch Mint, for the half year ending 31st December 1844, and for the half year ending 30th June 1845, came to hand in due course of mail, but owing to a very severe attack of fever, from which, I am but now very slowly recovering, I have been unable to reply at an earlier day.

I do not think, that I can with a due regard to the proper efficiency of the Mint, ask for a less appropriation, than was made for the current year, - it is true the business is carried on at present by four workmen, but the evident increase of business which has already taken place, and the reasonable anticipation of still greater, would not warrant me, in asking for less than the usual appropriation for five workmen for the following year.

I therefore respectfully submit the following estimate for the half year ending 31 December 1844, viz.t

For Salaries of Officers & Clerk	$3.000.
" Pay of Labourers in various departments	1.750.
" Wastage of Gold and for Contingent Expenses	750.	$5.500.

And for the half year ending 30th June 1845. viz.t

For Salaries of Officers & Clerk	$3.000.
" Pay of Labourers in various departments	1.750.
" Wastage of Gold, and for Contingent Expenses	750	5.500.
Total for the fiscal year ending 30 June '45.		$11.000.

Your A/c of expenditures for articles purchased for this Mint has been received, by which I find there is still a small balance of $24.34 to my credit, inclosed you will find a check for $500. on the Bank of America New York which will meet the a/cs still outstanding against this Mint.

Mint of the United States

Sir

I have to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 7th inst, and I am happy to find that you are recovering from the attack of fever of which Mr Strange had informed me.

Your Check for five hundred dollars on the Bank of America, N. York. has been cash^d & the amount placed to your Credit on my books.

We sent yesterday to Mr Chambers of Charleston p^r Sch^r Driver six Carboys of Nitric acid, & a roll of Hose, to be forwarded to you. Your remaining orders shall be sent by the next opportunity.

Your estimates for the next fiscal year are quite satisfactory. I could not expect, under existing circumstances that the amount would be less. Mr Strange's letter of the 3^d inst with the report for September was duly rec^d.

Sir

I have the honor of reporting to you the operations of this Branch of the Mint for the Month of October last — The paper marked A, will show the Amount of Gold Bullion received and Gold Coinage executed during the Month.

"In order to ensure us against delays", The Assayer requests that 2 Carboys of pure nitric acid, be sent as early as convenient.

The Melter & Refiner in addition to his former requisitions, also requests, that, One roll of sheet lead for lining the reservoir, 8 separating Jars, 4 Horns and 4 Pipes, for the Refinery, 4 copper drying Pans, two for gold and two for silver, 25 lbs Borax, and 5 lbs of corrosive sublimate, be sent at your earliest convenience. The state of Mr Caldwells health has been such, as to have caused some delay, in an application which he thinks important, to make, for your consent, that a new roof should be placed over the mint before the rainy season commences. His health is still very precarious, but in order to avoid any further delay, he requests me to inform you that the roof is in such a leaky condition, that the private apartments are scarcely habitable, and although every expedient has been tried, at considerable expense, to arrest the leaks, every successive storm of wind and rain shows that they are futile.

The Refinery, the Press room, the Assayers Office are also inundated by rain, the droppings through the roof, filling buckets = undermining and decaying the Walls of the Building. The experience we have had with the Zinc Roof induces him to urge your consent that as early arrangements as possible should be made to replace it, by a shingle roof, which can be covered with a fire proof paint or cement. The materials and workmanship can be found here, and we certainly have as little danger to apprehend from fire, as from the effects of rains, which bring down the plaster, both within and without the Building.

A Carpenter who has been employed to measure the roof, estimates the cost, at between 5 and 600 Dollars, which only includes the shingles, nails, and workmanship – but as it will be necessary to use copper for the gallies in order to make the covering effective, it is supposed that not less than $1.000. will be required for meeting every little item that may be required for covering it efficiently.

Mr. Caldwell therefore requests your views upon the subject, and should you agree with him, that you will cause to be inserted, along with the estimates for this Branch Mint, or in such other manner as you may deem most expeditious, an item for appropriation of $1.000. for covering the roof of this Mint.

U. States Branch Mint
Charlotte N.C.a 1 December 1843.

Sir

After a severe indisposition by bilious fever for the last five Months, I now have the pleasure of reporting to you the operations of this Branch of the Mint for the Month of November, as exhibited in paper marked A, enclosed.

I attribute the continuance of my sickness, and that of my whole Family, entirely to the dampness of the Building, caused by the very defective state of the roof — the rain drips through the roof in such quantities as to compell me to abandon the occupation of the upper rooms entirely, and this morning in going up to examine them after the rain of last night, I found them perfectly flooded.

On the 1st of November last, Mr. Strange at my request, addressed you upon the subject, requesting your views or concurrence in having a shingle roof put upon the Mint, (as we have so thoroughly tried Zinc, and found that it will not do,) to which I have not had the pleasure of an answer: would you be kind enough to let me hear from you, and should a shingle roof meet with your approbation, I could get Workmen to put it on immediately, who would wait for pay until an appropriation was made by Congress, for I consider that something must be done, and that immediately, for the constant dripping and soaking will in a very short time, soften the walls so much that they will be unable to support themselves.

The Melter & Refiner requests me to mention that the pot covers received are too small — the largest being only fit for pots No. 16. whereas we want them to fit No.s 25 & 30. He is also much in want of the precipitating Jars which have been ordered for some time, but not received, as well as the articles of were ordered last Month, and One dozen wooden ladles now ordered. Your attention to all of which is now earnestly requested.

I will thank you to forward at the earliest opportunity the 2 carboys of pure nitric acid, ordered in my last Report, as Dr. Gibbon informs me that he is nearly out of acid for assaying.

The Coiner requests that two pair of Dies be sent for the coming year, one pair for half Eagles and One pair for Quarter Eagles.

Sir,

I am happy to find, from your letter of the 1st inst., that your health is restored, and that you are again able to resume your correspondence.

I entirely approve your substituting a shingle roof for that tin one now on the building, and which has caused you so much annoyance. I thought I had before written to you to this effect; but it seems that I have mistaken an intention for action. I have not introduced this item of cost for this purpose into my estimates for the appropriation for your Mint, because the appropriation would not be available in time. You know that the fiscal year does not begin until July next. I propose, therefore, that you shall ask a special appropriation, and that you put it in the shape to be asked for, and I will gladly join you in doing so. The sum required is, I think, $1000. Let me know the representation in Congress into whose hands the case of this matter can be best committed, and I will enter into correspondence with him. Please, at the same time, to write to me such an application for this object, and the reasons for it, as I can communicate to the Committee of Ways & Means.

I have some time since, ordered three pairs of each kind of dies, for your Mint, for 1844. They are struck, and will be ~~found~~ out of the Engraver's hands in good time, I hope, for your January operations.

We have ordered a cask of pot-covers suitable for pots No. 30, which will be sent to you from Boston. The other articles will be sent to you very soon, the Acid being nearly ready for shipment. We have had great difficulty in finding any one to make the stone jars. The order is now in the hands of a man from whom we are daily expecting to hear.

Sir

I have delayed answering your favor of the 6th inst. for the purpose of ascertaining as near as practicable what would be the probable expense of recovering this Mint with Shingles and putting up copper gutters & vallies.

As stated in Mr. Stranges letter of 1 November last I find that we cannot have the building recovered effectively with a less sum than One Thousand Dollars — I will therefore thank you to get an appropriation for that amount passed by Congress at as early a day as possible, and would respectfully refer you to Gen.l MacKay Chairman of Ways and Means from this State and to Hon.ble Joseph R. Ingersoll of your City as Gentlemen of influence and business habits, into whose hands the care of this matter can be safely committed.

I make the application under the full conviction, that unless the Building is recovered at an early date, we shall be under the absolute necessity of ceasing operations in all the working Rooms from the effect of winds and rains which bring down the plaster in such quantities as not only to damage the Machinery, and frequently to arrest the regular business but to endanger the lives of the Labourers and Officers of the Mint.

The experience we have had with a tin Roof satisfies me, that no expedient which can be tried, will prevent the droppings through the Roof and save the walls from decay, but to replace it by a Shingle Roof — Every expedient has been resorted to, at considerable expense to stop the leaks, and save the expense of another Roof — but every successive storm of wind and rain shows that they are totally useless — For the above reasons, I make and urge the application for an appropriation.

I would request you to have ordered and forwarded as soon as practicable Six hundred and fifty (650) feet of sheet copper of the proper thickness for Gutters & Valleys — I should think less than the sixteenth of an inch thick would answer — the sooner it can be forwarded the better, for as soon as it arrives, we will commence covering the roof, as I have made a contract for that purpose, and the Contractor has agreed to wait for his pay until the appropriation be made by Congress.

U. S. Branch Mint

Charlotte No. Car. 6th Jany 1843.

Sir

I herewith enclose you the paper marked A, which exhibits the operations of this Branch of the Mint for the Month of December and shows that we received during that Month $23.411 18/100 Dollars worth of Gold Bullion. I am pleased to have it in my power to state that we have received during the year 1842, $174.407/100 worth of Gold Bullion and have coined 159.005 Dollars, which I presume will correspond with the aggregate of my Monthly Reports. This is considerably more than has been received, and coined annually, for the three preceding years, and from the present prospect of the Mining interest, in this state, I feel fully authorized in saying, that it is not as much as will be received during the next year, provided this Institution continues to retain the confidence of the Community.

I have been endeavouring to curtail the expenses of this Branch of the Mint by a rigid economy in the expenditure of the Contingent Fund, and have been trying the experiment for some Months of dispensing with the services of one of the Workmen and the Porter, which results in the annual reduction of $942. in the expenditures for that service, and I am induced to believe that I can render that reform permanent.

Dr. Gibbon has not yet got up his "Sweeps" nor Mr. Bolton his Clippings and Filings so as to enable me to report the Wastage for this year, but will have them ready in a few days.

I have received through the Secretary of the Treasury two Head Dies one of half and the other of ¼ Eagles.

I find that when you receive the Coin reserved for the annual assay, (which I will forward in a few days) that you will have more of my Contingent Fund than will be necessary, and have drawn upon you in favor of Mr. E. M. Feldt for the Amt. of his Order from Mr. Bolton which I have enclosed and which you will please accept, and charge me with.

Sir

Agreeably to the instructions contained in your letter of the 9th February 1842, I have by this mail sent one half of the Coins reserved for the annual assay, to the Secretary of the Treasury, with the request that he would forward the same to you.

You will observe that I have divided the Coins reserved from each Melt, and sent the half of each, so that if either package is received the means will be afforded to test the correctness of our Coin from each Melt. I will send the balance in a few days. The Coins from Melt No 1 of the Eagles were defective and not issued but were returned to the Melter & Refiner. I am not yet enabled to report the Wastage in either of the Departments.

Dear Sir,

Our Assayers, who lately published a Work entitled "A Manual of Coins", inform me that on the 5th July last, upon the request of Mr. Levin, of the house of Levin & Tavel, booksellers, of your city, they furnished that house with ten copies of the work, on sale for which they have a receipt. The ~~late~~ amount of the charge for these copies is $40. Sir

I have the honor to enclose you a copy of the Annual Report of the Assayer Melter & Refiner to me, marked A. which exhibits the operations of this Department during the year more fully and satisfactorily than I can now do by letter, and shows that of the estimated quantity of Gold is still remaining in the Sweeps of the two preceding years there has been no wastage in this Department, and at all events, it has been within the legal limits. In relation to the Sweeps of 1841, you will recollect that I forwarded you a specimen, and upon the assay of that specimen, it was ascertained that the Sweeps were too poor to justify their transportation to Philadelphia, and I retained them, giving Dr Gibbon credit upon his A/c for their estimated value viz Ozs 3.272. which was all that was necessary to balance his A/cs of that year, and them delivered to him the "Sweep" and charged him with them in 1842, at the Amount of 3.272 Ozs with a view that they should be ground over with the Sweeps of this year to procure all the remaining Gold that was possible, by the means that we have and reduce the Wastage of this year. It was evident from the test of the specimen sent you, as reported in your letter of the 26 March 1842, that there was Gold still remaining in those Sweeps, and I did not know in what other way they could be made at all available: but I see from this Report that Dr Gibbon has not had them worked over with the Sweeps of this year as was originally contemplated, when I charged him with them, but in his report he takes the estimated value, predicated upon your letter of the 26th March 1842, and takes credit in his calculations for 10.540 Ozs of Gold supposed to be remaining in those 8 Bbls. of Sweeps of 1841, which he delivered to me in the final settlement of his Afes in 1841, at 3.272 Ozs, and then received them and was charged only for 3.272 Ozs in his new Afe of 1842, and without touching them in any way I see he takes credit in the settlement of his Afes for 1842 for those Sweeps at 10.540 Ozs.

In making his calculations in order to ascertain the true Wastage of his Department in 1842, I can see no reason why he should take credit in 1842 for 7.268 Ozs more on account of those Sweeps than he was charged for them in that year when he received them.

If there be that much more Gold in them than was estimated in the settlement of 1841, the surplus was in that year, and has nothing to do with the Afes of 1842, and would show an accumulation instead of Wastage in that Department in the year 1841. It is however a matter of no importance as Dr Gibbons would be entirely within the legal limits without estimating that surplus, and I only remark upon that estimate for the reason, that I think it erroneous, and unintentially deceptive in not showing the true Wastage in 1842.

I would like to know what final disposition is to be made of those Sweeps and those of the year 1842, which I presume will be scarcely worth sending to Philadelphia, and I suppose in adjusting the Afe of Dr Gibbons I should treat the whole as Wastage and allow it to him.

I regret that I cannot report so small an amount of Wastage in the Coiner's Department.

He has received in Standard Ingots during the year 15.428.830 Ozs and has returned in Coin, Clippings Filings and Sweeps 15.401.409 Ozs leaving a balance of 27.421 Ozs still in his hands. His full legal wastage would be 23.142 Ozs, which still leaves 4.279 Ozs unaccounted for, and which has not been satisfactorily explained. I feel it my duty to leave his A/c open and report the facts to you, and await your further instructions upon the subject

I hope you will cause the requisition made in Dr. Gibbons report to be forwarded as soon as practicable. I will send by the next mail the remainder of the Coins reserved for the annual Assay.

I have caused 2 Half Eagle heads, 2 Quarter Eagle Heads and 2 Quarter Eagle tails Dies to be defaced.

I have the honor to be

Very respectfully

Sir

Mr. Gaither who has just gone to Burke, desired Mr. Strange to show me the letter just written to you upon the subject of my Sweeps.

It was insisted that I should receive the Sweeps of 1841 in my new a/c of 1842, at their supposed value, although all the a/cs. of 1841 were balanced, I thought I had nothing more to do with them. Having subsequently however received a true assay of their contents, I thought I ought in justice to my Department of the Mint to claim their true value.

After obtaining the grains from my sweeps, I thought it possible, that in warm weather, we might obtain more gold from them, but I never contemplated to grind the fine sweeps of 1841 with the coarse sweep at the end of 1842,. I had your instructions ~~at the end of each year~~ to calculate the sweep at the end of each year, at what my experience led me to believe was their value. I have never estimated them higher, than the balance I required to settle my a/cs, although it is evident they were worth more.

I was instructed by you to claim an allowance for their true value after an assay of the samples I forwarded. It is difficult for me with my contracted means to get up my rough sweeps in time for an annual settlement and by insisting that I should receipt for sweeps as Bullion returned to me two years sweeps must always appear in one year.

I have not thought it necessary to estimate the Silver in my "Sweeps", nor the small amount combined with nitric acid in the Refinery.

Being anxious to hasten the collection of grains from the Sweeps, at a Gold Mill, in order to settle my accounts in season, they have not been so thoroughly cleaned, as I think it possible to do here — indeed the coldness of the water obstructs the amalgamation of the Gold. If it is thought advisable to subject the Sweeps during warmer weather to a more searching process, precious may be obtained from them, sufficient to pay the expense, and also to reduce the charge upon the profit & Loss a/c of the Mint

The roof of the Building covering my apartments is in a very leaky condition — part of the ceiling has fallen in the Refinery, and more threatens to fall. Wooden ceiling should be prepared at once to ceil those rooms, as very serious results may happen to the Workmen and the Building during our operations.

The work now required to be done in the Refinery, renders it difficult to make these repairs immediately, but if the Lumber is prepared, the Carpenters shall have place upon the earliest opportunity.

My Workmen report the want of 2 copper drying pans for Silver and 2 for Gold.
4 Earthen ware jars for Separating
75 feet of inch Leaden Water Pipe
A supply of zinc or other chain for the counter weights in the Refinery
An Iron retort for distilling mercury from the Amalgam of grains from the Sweeps to economize quick silver
12 Annealing Crucibles for the Assays
1 Carboy pure acid, & 12 Carboys for the Refinery

Jany. 23. 1843.

Sir,

Circumstances of a domestic character have thrown me somewhat back in my correspondence with you. My Clerk, Mr Dunning, has also been detained, and is still detained from the Mint by sickness.

Your melt, No. 15, is found, from the Slip sent to us, to have been 900 ~~M~~ fine.

Melt No. 16 found to be but 898 ~~M~~. This, under present circumstances, may be received, as it is within the limit of the law; but no such melt ought ever to be made into coins. At this Mint, we never allow it.

Both the above melts were reported by Dr Gibbon one thousandth finer than our Assayers found them, on double assay. I pray you ask his attention to this circumstance.

The box of coins sent by you for the annual assay, was received on the 18th, inst.

The order in favor of Adam Eckfeldt, Esq for $145, will be paid after the annual assay.

Your annual coinage has been very respectable in amount, but your fellow Mint at Dahlonega has outstripped you, having reached the amount of $309,647.50.

Your important communication of the 16th. was received this morning, and shall receive my early attention.

P.S. It has been found, at the Dahlonega Mint, that the duties of the Assayer and Coiner are very unequal, and it has been proposed that the making of ingots should be transferred from to the Coiner. This is desirable on another account, namely that it completes the system of checks, and would render the repetition of unification of your ingot melts at the Mint unnecessary. I am, for both reasons, in favor of the proposed change, and am disposed to urge upon Congress the alteration of the law to present law. Let me know what views are entertained at your Mint as to the proposed change.

Sir

I have the honor of acknowledging the receipt of your favor of the 23d inst, reporting the fineness of Metts Nos 15 & 16, and I regret that the latter was found to be upon the extreme limits of the law. I had not issued any of the Coin from that Melt, and upon the request of Dr Gibbon, I concluded that it would probably be best to return them and have them recoined, and you will please to withdraw the Coins reserved from that Melt for the Annual Assay, which are in the box heretofore sent on. I presume that this can be done, and no serious inconvenience result from the course I have taken in the matter.

I herewith forward the balance of the Coin reserved for the Annual Assay, through the address of the Secretary of the Treasury which I hope will reach you in time and prove satisfactory.

You observe that "it has been found at the Dahlonega Mint, that the duties of Assayer and Coiner are very unequal, and it has been proposed that the making of Ingot should be transferred to the Coiner". The same inequalities of duties between those Officers is apparent in this Mint, and would be in a great measure obviated by the proposed change; but as you remark the most important reason for the alteration is, that it would complete the systems of checks between the different Officers. The present arrangement is certainly defective in not affording a check upon the Assayer Melter & Refiner in all that class of deposites which require separation in the Refinery, and in fact deposites that do not require separation, may be incorrectly reported and not detected.

It may require some small additional expense in erecting a Furnace in the Coiners Department, but I think that the advantages to be derived from the change would fully justify the additional cost, and I am decidedly in favor of the alteration.

Sir,

Your letter of the 30th was received day before yesterday.

I approve the course which you propose to take with the coins from your Melt No. 16, of last year, and which the assay proved to be on the very limit of the law as to fineness. The coins returned from that Melt will therefore be withdrawn from the annual assay.

Dr. Gibbon mentions, in a letter to Mr. Eckfeldt, that these coins are not well executed, and that it is therefore not undesirable, even on that account, that they should be withheld from circulation. This circumstance suggests to me the propriety of mentioning a very unpleasant predicament into which a friend of mine was drawn, about three weeks ago, at Boston, by some quarter-eagles of your's, of the coinage of 1841. He had offered one of them in payment to a bar-keeper, at a hotel, who thought it prudent to test it by trying to bend it with his teeth, when it broke short off. Afterwards another was tried with the same result. A bank Cashier was referred to, who pronounced the coins to be counterfeits. A Sheriff's officer was accordingly sent after my friend, and found him engaged on business at a factory, the proprietor of which informed the officer that he was unquestionably mistaken, and should be cautious how he acted, for the gentleman accused was well known to him, was highly respectable, and above suspicion. A more careful examination of the coins was accordingly made, and they were found to be genuine. — Now we we have the broken halves of one of them at present at the Mint, and we have no hesitation in saying that the metal was not fit for coinage. I hope your officers will be careful never to employ gold so hard & brittle as the gold of this unlucky Specimen.

I find, on full consideration of the proposal to make a change in the duties of the Assayer & Coiner, that, if made at all, it cannot be confined to the making of ingots, but must include refining, toughening, and parting; in fact all the operations except simple assaying, so that the assayer shall have no bullion placed in his keeping, and no account with the Treasurer. The reason is obvious; for there would be otherwise an inextricable confusion of accounts. How, for instance, could we estimate the wastage accounts?

Now there is a very important question involved in that of the expediency of the proposed change, — Namely the competency of the Coiner to the new duties that would be required of him. In all the Mints the Coiners are Mechanics, and I believe that Mr. Bolton has no knowledge of Chemistry, & no practice in the operations of a Melter & Refiner. I pray you to make inquiry as to these points, and to report to me without delay, as the question is now before Congress. Let me know, also, whether Mr. Bolton would be willing, if required by law, to undertake the new work, or whether the change would lead to his resignation.

The assay-slip from Melt No. 1, of this year, has been tested twice by Mr. Eckfeldt, and its fineness turns out to be 898.3, — a result which will not surprise Dr. Gibbon, if I may judge from his letter to Mr. Eckfeldt, but which I am sure he will take care to avoid in future.

Mr. Bolton says, that it is true, he has no knowledge of Chemistry, and but very little of the operations of a Metter & Refiner, but that, with what information he might derive from Dr. Gibbon, "he would be willing if required by law to undertake" the duties that might be imposed upon him in that capacity.

Sir,

Your letter of the 17th inst., just received, reminds me of my having neglected to reply to yours of the 16th ult., relative to the wastage accounts of the ~~Assay~~ Multro Refiner, and the Coiner.

I am truly distressed at the unfortunate result a second time presented by the latter Officer. What can be the origin of this excess of wastage in his department. The gold wastage of the Coiner, here, for the past year, was 0.327 ~~M~~, at Dahlonega 0.37, and at New Orleans ~~[illegible]~~ 1. ~~M~~, and this last was an ~~subject of~~ amount considered to require explanation. Are the persons in the employment of Mr. Bolton worthy of trust; or have you any other ~~explanations~~ means of accounting for the excessive wastage? — Of course you will take care that the excess above the limit permitted by law, be ~~deducted~~ paid over by Mr. Bolton, or deducted from his salary.

As to the ~~account of the~~ Melter & Refiner, I agree with you that he can claim, on account of this Sweep of 1841, no more than the value at which it was charged ~~to him~~ when returned to him at the beginning of 1842.

This is, with regard to the value that can be claimed for Sweep, a rule always to be observed, to which I am desirous of inviting your attention and that of your Officer. It is that the true value of the Sweep is the price which can be obtained for it, or its assay value after deducting the cost of smelting. ~~If a transportation~~ If this operation is to be made at a distance, the cost of carriage is (however) to be borne by the Mint, and not deducted from the credit of the Officer.

Now, whatever gold ~~&~~ your Sweep may contain, if it will not bear the cost of smelting, its ~~value~~ cannot enter as a credit in the Officer's account, because it is in fact valueless.

These rules have been uniformly observed here, and have been applied in settling the accounts at the New Orleans Mint.

I cannot advise that your sweeps be sent to Philadelphia, as we have been, ourselves, under the necessity of causing our last parcel to be smelted in England; ~~and I have just recommended the same course to~~

I send subjoined the results of our late annual assay.

Charlotte N.C.a 28 Feby 1843.

Sir

When your letter of the 9.th Inst. was received I was absent for a few days, and regret that I had it not in my power to respond immediately to your important communication.

Mr Strange wrote to you by the return mail and gave you Mr Bolton's views relative to the proposed change in the respective duties of the Assayer & Coiner, informing you he was willing to undertake the additional duties that would be imposed upon him by the alteration of the law, and admitting however that he has no knowledge of the science of Chemistry, and but little practical knowledge of the duties of Melter & Refiner.

I think that Mr Bolton would make every effort to discharge those additional duties, but from the want of the proper qualifications, I doubt the success of his efforts. It is possible he might get on with the assistance of Mr Jerres one of the Hands that is now employed in the Department of Dr Gibbon, who has been principally engaged in the Refining, and in assisting Dr Gibbon in his Assay Office. I think the proposed change is very desireable for several reasons, and that it should be made, even if it resulted in the necessity of a change of Officers. —

I regret the unpleasant predicament into which your friend was drawn by the defective manner in which some quarter Eagles were executed at this Mint in 1841, and have apprised the other Officers of the fact and have drawn their particular attention to the condition of the metal used in that coinage.

You will observe that I have not taken my proposed trip to Alabama, and my principle reason for declining, has been that I have been induced to believe, that there is an under current at work to effect my removal from Office, which I suppose will not surprise you who are conversant with the difficulties I have met with in this Institution.

I have not received the slightest intimation from Washington of any charges against me, or of any contemplated change, but from the signs of the times, I resolved to let my private interests suffer in Alabama, and be present at my post, ready to meet promptly, any charges that might be brought forward, and to counteract any improper influence that might be used against me. I have some thought of visiting Washington in a few days, and if so, shall do my self the pleasure of extending my visit to your City, and of making your acquaintance in person.

Dr Gibbon informs me that the cask of black lead pots No 30 recently received from your City are very inferior in quality, 12 of which were broken before they reached here, and 3 have broken this week in the melting of Ingots after being carefully annealed, and I must request that you have forwarded as soon as convenient, another cask of No 30 of the best quality.

I transmit a slip from Melt No 2 of Gold Ingots weight $\frac{960}{1000}$ths of an Oz. reported fineness .899 5/ value $1.11

I am unable to enclose you my monthly Report by this Mail but will by the next.

In my last communication, I mentioned that it was rumoured here, that I was to be removed from Office, and that it was possible that I might visit Washington in a few days and probably Philadelphia. Sir,

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 11th inst., on the subject of a charge made against Col B. L. Gaither, the superintendent of the Branch Mint at Charlotte, that he resides with his family about sixty miles from that town.

In compliance with your instructions, I will make immediate inquiries as to the truth of this allegation, and the inconveniences caused by the remote residence of him. In the mean while, however, it may be proper to state that I have been aware that Col. Gaither's family resided at a distance from Charlotte, and that he was occasionally with them, but his prompt attention to my frequent and constant correspondence, and the evidences which he has shown of being a vigilant officer, have led me to the conviction that his own residence is at Charlotte, and that he is not guilty of neglect of his official duties.

Dear Sir

I chenfully comply with your request to state what I know concerning your residence in this village since you have had the appointment of superintendant of the Branch Mint.

I myself have always regarded you as residing here, and so have the other citizens of this community. You have been occasionally absent on visits of short duration to your family in Berks, but never in such a way as to impair your character as a resident. The duties of the establishment, over which you preside so far as they are known to myself, and understood by the community, have been faithfully performed, and I know the fact to be that in its management there is a general confidence by all persons as well those who are interested in the business of goldmining as others.

Dear Sir

Your note of yesterday (with a copy of a letter from the Hon'l the Secretary of the Treasury appended) has been received, and I very cheerfully comply with your request in giving what information I can relative to the matter of enquiry.

I deem it sufficient for your purpose simply to state, that since you have had the superintendance of the Mint at this place I have received and deposited for coinage at the same upwards of Fifty three thousand dollars in value of Gold Bullion from the Mining districts of Beeke & adjoining counties. This amount comprised necessarily a large number of separate deposits; and so far as I am aware, no complaints has ~~ever~~ been made, certainly none to myself, by any of the numerous depositors, of the least inconvenience having been suffered by them in consequence of your absence from the Mint

It may be pertinent to observe that the whole of the Bullion refered to, was sent to me under your care; and as safe opportunities for remitting Gold rarely occur between the districts named and this place, I apprehend that your occasional visits to those districts, have been of no inconsiderable advantage to the Miners operating there, as thereby they have obtained much earlier returns from the Mint than otherwise they would have had—

The undersigned, Coiner and Clerk, of the Branch Mint in this place, would respectfully express the opinion, that instead of the occasional absence of the Superintendant, being disadvantageous to any person having transactions at the Mints, they have been the means of bringing a large accession of Bullion to the Institution, which would otherwise have found its way to Rechtley for Coinage, or been taken by the Merchants in their periodical visits to the Northern Cities. So that a spurious Coinage to that extent would have obtained circulation, or the circulation of so much of the legal coin of the Country would have been entirely lost to this section of the Country - And having seen a statement made by Mr Osborn of March 22d - We fully concur in the truth of it statement.

U. States Branch Mint
Charlotte No. Ca 24th March 1843

Sir

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of yours of the 13th Inst enclosing me a copy of a communication from the Secretary of the Treasury to yourself, informing you, that, "in a communication addressed to the President of the United States, and by him referred to this Department, it is charged against Col. Gaither, the Superintendent of the Branch Mint in North Carolina, that he resides with his Family about 60 miles from Charlotte", and in which he requests you to ascertain if such be the case, and if so "whether any inconveinience, is caused to those having transactions with the Mint."

I am pleased that this matter has assumed a tangible form, and that the President and Secretary of the Treasury have given me an opportunity of proving the negative of this false and groundless charge, which no doubt has originated from personal & private malice, or from some individual who is desirous of the Office for himself or his friend, and found it necessary, in order to effect his nefarious design, to trump up some charge against me, and thereby produce a false impression upon the mind of the President — and in all probability, it has been some person who has not been a depositor, nor had any transaction with the Mint.

In reply I pronounce the charge false in — every Shape and form in which it can be presented, and I believe basely false.

I came into Office on the 18th of August 1841, and have been a resident of Charlotte from that day to this date. I removed my Family here, as soon thereafter, as convenience and the health of this place would permit, who remained during the Fall Winter & part of the Spring, & then returned to my former residence in Morgantown.— Since which time Mrs Gaither has preferred remaining the greater part of her time in the Society of her immediate relations & friends, and I have indulged her in that pleasure. I have however continued to reside in Charlotte, making occasional visits to my Family of very limited duration, except in the Months of August and September, when I was pretty generally absent, in consequence of the unhealthiness of this place. Fortunately for me, you have in your possession, evidence of my residence here, in the frequent official communications made to you by myself, copied by the Clerk of the Mint, and mailed at this place. Upon receiving my appointment of Superintendent, I immediately gave up my professional business upon my Circuit, and have declined practicing even in the Courts of this County, in order that I might steer clear of the remarks of envy and Malice.

I cannot conceive that any inconvenience has been caused to those having transactions at the Mint from my occasional absence, for I have always left Mr Strange the Clerk of the Mint in full possession of my Department authorized to represent me in every particular.

My occasional visits to Morganton, have resulted in the increased quantities of Bullion deposited, and to the very great convenience of a large number of Depositors.

Morganton is situated immediately in the Gold region and the Miners and Dealers in gold have been in the habit of handing me their gold whenever they have met with me, without taking any receipt or guaranty for its return, but my integrity, and I have always deposited the same, in my own name, and sent them their coin, by the first opportunity.

The Bank at Morganton has done a large business in the purchase of Bullion, and I have always accomodated the Directory, by bringing their Bullion to the Mint. Upon reference to the Books, I find that I have brought to the Mint, upwards of One Hundred and seven thousand Dollars' worth of Gold Bullion for the accomodation of Depositors, and have been induced to incur this heavy individual responsibility, from a wish to restore confidence in the Institution and to render it useful to the Community. I have heard of no complaints or charges made against me from any individual who has had business with the Mint, or from any other source. You are aware of the fact, that I have met with difficulties in the discharge of my Official duties with the Officers of the Mint. One of which resulted in a challenge to Mortal Combat, but I am ready and willing to defend every Official act of my administration here, and fear not the Scrutiny of Malice itself.

I herewith enclose you the Certificates of the Coiner and Clerk of the Mint, and of as many other Gentlemen of this place as I deem necessary. They are all Gentlemen of high character, and implicit credence would be given to their Statement in this or any other Community where they are known. The Merchants who are the largest Depositors are absent at this time at Charleston, and the Northern Cities purchasing their Spring Supplies, but I will transmit you their Statement as soon as they return. I will go immediately to Morganton & send you the Statement of the Citizens of that place upon the Subject. I have taken the liberty of transmitting to you likewise the paper marked A which is an expose of my Administration in Comparison with that of my Predecessor, and exhibits an increase of Bullion and a diminution of expenses. and I will here remark that the item of "Pay of Labourers" for this year, will be still less by $400 than last.

Assayers Office U.S. Br. Mint
Charlotte N.C. 31 March 1843

Sir,

In yielding up my office as Melter & Refiner there is one subject upon which I beg to real your attention — and having done so shall leave the matter entirely to your sense of justice.

When Mr. Robertson was discharged from this Mint, in consequence of declining, by my directions, to sign a receipt differing from the one I had certified — no official communication was offered to me by the Superintendent upon the subject — neither was there any consultation with me, as Melter & Refiner, how far the public service would suffer from the sudden discharge of an efficient workman under my direction. Mr Gaither set out for the mountains on the same day on which Robertsons discharge was written therefore he had received it, I had, therefore, no opportunity during the ensuing month of communicating with the Superintendant after I knew his intentions. The business of the Refining was then very urgent — and my other workmen sick — after consultation with Mr Bolton with regard to the usages of the Mint — and being spared that Custom authorized a monthly notice – I reluctantly engaged Robertson to aid in the pressing duties of my department for that term.

When the Superintendent returned to Charlotte at the end of the month – he refused the payment of the wages fairly earned by Robertson under my charge – I therefore considered myself personally bound to pay the amount $58.50 from my own salary – for which I hold his receipt. If there was any fault in the transaction from first to last – it was mine and not Robertsons – as he acted under my order, and with every deference towards the Superintendent. And I could not consent to upon him his just wages.

If you think that I should endure the loss of this sum – I yield for the absolute decision of the Mint – I am perfectly satisfied to permit the affair to rest. I think I owe it to myself to refer the case for your action.

I am very respectfully

Sir,

I sent you by the last mail Statements from the citizens of Morgantow, relative to the Charges against me, & herewith transmit you a similar one from the principal depositors at Lincolnton.

I hope that I have fully sustained the truth of my reply, & the falsity of the charge made against me, but if there is yet a shade of doubt remaining, I can forward any number of certificates from gentlemen of the most reputable Character. I regret that I have thus far been deprived of the statement of our Merchants who are still absent, & I suppose it will be required that you should report as soon as possible.

I do not know what is the custom in these matters, but I should be pleased to have on file in the Treasury Department, my reply, and all the evidence I have sent you, in order that the President & Secretary may see how groundless the charge is, & be induced thereby upon my application to give up the name of the author or authors of the same. I think in justice to me they should have given the author with the communication of the charge, & have let me have exposed the motive that stimulated the charge into existence.

I have the honor to be, very respt.y,

Sir

I have the honor to enclose you the paper marked A. showing the operations of this Mint for the Month of March, and the pleasure to inform you, that we have been enabled to put into operation the recent Act of Congress, transferring the duties of Melter & Refiner to the Coiner. — In doing so the operations of the Mint have been impeded, but to no great extent, and I hope and believe that the change will operate to the great convenience of ourselves, as well as to the additional accommodation of the Community — in getting prompt assays, and speedy payment for their Bullion.

In your letter of the 3d March you instruct me, to place all the Workmen but one in the service of the Coiner as such, and as acting Melter & Refiner. I fear this arrangement will operate as a very unequal distribution of labour among them, for the hand placed under the Assayer, would be idle two thirds of his time, and the other sometimes pressed with labour. — Our deposites come in very irregularly, and frequently it is not necessary to assay more than once a week. I have thought it would be best to place all the hands under the Coiner Melter & Refiner, upon a perfect equality, and to require of them to labour in each Department, but to give the Assayer paramount authority over any one of them that he may desire to assist him in his assays, and require that this hand should be subject to the Assayer's commands, whenever his services were required in the Assay Office.

One consideration, that has induced me to take this view of the subject is, that Mr Ferris, (whom the Assayer will wish to assist him in his Office) has more experience in the Refinery, than any one of the hands, and would be of more service to the new Melter & Refiner in the Separating Room and in fact I beleive with his assistance, the new Melter & Refiner would get on with his new duties very well - but it will not do to take him from the Assayer entirely, for he is the hand that has always assisted him in the Assay Office. I shall however await your suggestions and instructions upon this subject.

U. S. Branch Mint

Sir

The new Melter & Refiner has just made his first melt of Gold Ingots, which the Assayer Reports at .900 5/ fine, but did not accompany his report with a slip as usual, and I immediately addressed him a note, (a copy of which is subjoined) requesting the slip that was in his possession to send to your Mint for verification, to which he gave me a verbal reply through Mr. Strange, that he could not comply with the request as the metal belonged to the Melter & Refiner — The Melter & Refiner called upon him for it, and he still declined — The Melter & Refiner then took a slip from the Ingots himself, which I herewith enclose weight $\frac{100}{1000}$ths of an Oz. reported fineness .900 5/ value $1.86. which I wish carefully assayed, and the fineness as well as the relative proportion of Silver and copper, reported, as soon as convenient. The Melter & Refiner is desirous, that this his first melt shall be tested, and I deem it important myself. This melt is made up from the fine Gold received from the former Melter & Refiner upon his own assay, some deposites and the clippings from the last melt — and by testing this melt, the accuracy of that assay will be tested, and the new Melter & Refiner, will then know that the metals delivered to him (that is the fine Gold and Silver) are really worth their reported value.

I can see no possible objection that the Assayer can have to this course, and was astonished that he should present the slightest obstacle — I will however forbear commenting upon his conduct, but leave you with the facts for your own inferences. I am truly glad that the recent act of Congress, has relieved me in a great measure from Official intercourse with this Officer, for he appears not to know his true position in the Mint, nor the respect that is due to the other Officers.

I think that he should be required to continue to return me the assay slip with his report as usual, and to be accounted for by me in my settlement with the Melter & Refiner as formerly, and I think it will be most prudent, to send occasionally a slip from some of the Melts to your Mint to be tested as heretofore.

Sir,

In a letter to me of the 11th ult. you state that "in a communication addressed to the President of the United States, and by him referred to your Department, it is charged against Col. Gaither, the Superintendent of the Branch Mint in North Carolina, that he resides with his family about sixty miles from Charlotte;" and you ask me "to cause the necessary inquiries to be made to ascertain if such be the fact, and if so whether any inconvenience is caused to those having transactions with the Mint, in consequence of the distance of the Superintendent's residence."

In compliance with your instructions, I immediately wrote to Mr. Gaither, sending him a copy of your letter, and begging him "to furnish me with his reply as to the truth of the allegations made, accompanied with certificates from disinterested persons acquainted with the circumstances."

This reply I have received, under date of the 24th ult., with certificates from several individuals. Of these papers I have sent enclosed, and you will see that they go to establish the following facts.

1st.— Col. Gaither came into office on the 18th of August 1841. ~~That~~ He removed his family to Charlotte soon afterwards, and they resided there with him during the ~~fall, winter~~ following autumn, winter, and Spring; but then ~~after~~ returned to their former residence in Morganton, where they have since ~~continually~~ remained. (A.)

2d.— Col. Gaither himself has continually resided a resident of Charlotte, and is so considered by the citizens of that place. (B. H.D.)

3d.— His ~~occasional~~ visits to his family in Burke County, which have been of very limited duration, except during the months of August and September, when he was "pretty generally absent in consequence of the unhealthiness of Charlotte." (A.)

4th.— ~~His absences have not been~~ During his occasional ~~absences~~ absences, he has always left his Clerk, Mr. W. F. Strange, "in full possession of his department, and authorized to represent him in every particular"; so that no interruption or delay of business has occurred. (A.) ~~(C.)~~

5th.— ~~During~~ By Col. Gaither's visits to Morganton, ~~he~~ which is in the midst of a great gold region, he has ~~had~~ attended to the Miners and dealers opportunities of sending, safely, to the Charlotte Mint, for coinage, deposites of gold which he states to have to the have amounted to more than $107,000. (A.) A certificate from the Agent of the Bank of the State of North Carolina Strong that he had himself thus received, by the hands of Col. Gaither, and deposited for coinage, upwards of $53,000 in value of gold bullion. (C.) By this means, it is believed that a large accession of bullion has found its way to the Charlotte Mint, which would not otherwise have reached it. (D.)

4th. That Col. Gaither has the confidence of the community in which he resides and of the ~~from deposites~~ dealers in gold bullion appears from

5th. The certificates (B & D) go to show that Col. Gaither has the confidence of the community in which he resides, and of all persons who have business at the Mint. (B & D.)

7th. During his superintendence, the amount of deposites and of coinage has increased, while the expenses of the Mint have sensibly diminished. (E.)

To these statements I will merely add that my constant correspondence with Col. Gaither has led me to the conviction that he is an attentive, vigilant, and able officer, and that his duties are faithfully performed.

Sir

On the 19th Inst. I sent to you, through the address of the Secretary of the Treasury one half of the Coins reserved at this Mint for the annual assay, and to day through the same medium of communication, I send the other half, which I hope will arrive safe and in time.

I have this morning received four Boxes containing 2 pairs of half and 2 pairs of quarter Eagle Dies, which complete the number to be sent, as advised by your letter of the 6th Inst.

In looking over the file of letters in the Mint, I observed great dissatisfaction in yours of the 24 Feby 1843, at the excessive wastage in the Coiner's Department for the year 1842, and it is with regret that I have to inform you, that the same wastage has occurred for the last year, not only in the Coiner's Department, but in that of the Melter & Refiner.

Since the 1st January 1843 there have been delivered to Mr Bolton as Coiner 26.205.770 Ozs Stan.d Gold Bullion, and there have been received from him in Gold Coinage & Clippings 26.168.722 Ozs Stan.d being 37.048 Ozs less than were delivered to him, but within the limit for wastage by 2.259 Ozs.

Since the 1 April 1843, there have been delivered to him as Melter and Refiner 23.434.858 Ozs Stan.d Gold Bullion, and there have been received from him 23.382.027 Ozs Stan.d being 52.831 Ozs less than delivered to him, and which after a full allowance for wastage leaves him still deficient 5.962 Ozs

This unprecedented wastage cannot be necessary in the operations of Coining, and therefore must have its origin either in gross negligence or dishonesty — there can be no other solution of the matter. He makes no effort at explanation, neither does he doubt the honesty of the men in his employment. — Under these mortifying circumstances, I deem it my duty to leave his accounts open, and wait your instructions upon the subject.

Sir,

The two boxes of assay-coins announced in your letter of the 24th ult., have come safely to hand.

Let me observe that the assay-coins should be taken out after the deliveries to the Treasurer, so that their amount may appear in the monthly reports, and there exhibit the whole amount of the coinage.

I am disturbed by the account which you give me of Mr. Bolton's mintage. There can be no question as to the first step to be taken. The value of the 5.962 oz. of gold, by which his mintage as Melter & Refiner exceeds the limit of the law, must be ~~deducted from~~ paid by him out of his own ~~profit~~ funds, or deducted from the first salary that falls due to him. Unless you have some reasons, beyond mere surmise, for believing that the ~~act~~ deficiency, within the legal limits, was not a legitimate mintage, it must be allowed. We have no choice.

Then comes the question of the subsequent action. If, indeed, there be as you suppose, "this unprecedented mintage must have its origin either in gross negligence or dishonesty;" if "there can be no other solution of the matter;" then it will become my duty to lay the whole state of the case before the Department, and to ask upon it that action which the President alone can take. Before this course shall be taken, I wish you to ~~answer some~~ for some further information from yourself.

Please to inform what has been the amount of gold subjected to the operation of parting, from the 1st of April 1843 to the end of the year.

Of this amount how much was ~~in~~ such small parcels as not to be parted for the benefit of the depositors? ~~but to~~

Were there the same workmen in the Melting & Refining department as were employed by Dr. Gibbons; and who are they?

Was this department superintended by Mr. Bolton, ~~with~~ personally and carefully? Did he give to it the same attention as to the Coining?

Are the operations of the two departments under Mr. Bolton's care frequently going on at the same time?

Is Mr. Bolton often absent from the Mint during working hours?

~~Is he in the habit of weighing carefully the~~ Is he in the practice of keeping memorandum accounts of all his official transactions, and of so managing his Mint business as to be able, from time to time, at short periods, to know the state of his accounts and responsibilities?

You told me that he says he has no suspicion of any of his men; and he formerly said the same thing to Mr. Gaither. Pray tell me what is your opinion of his workmen. Have you any reason to suspect their honesty? Do they bear good characters out of doors? Do you know any of them to be addicted to drink, or to gambling?

Is Mr. Bolton much involved in debt at Charlotte? I know that, when here, he allowed his expenses to exceed his income.

Have you any other information to give me that may bear upon this painful subject?

The duty which we are called upon to perform is a very distressing one, but it is one of high obligation, from which we must not shrink.

Sir

I have delayed an answer to your letter of the 7th Ulto in order that I might possibly obtain the information you desired in regard to Mr. Bolton's wastage of gold, but after all my enquiries the whole subject still remains unexplained.

I have however in conformity with your opinion allowed the wastage within the legal limits, though I still believe it was unnecessary, yet having no proof that would have justified me in refusing upon the ground that it was not legitimate. In answer to your question as to the amount of gold subjected to the operation of parting from 1st April 1843, to the end of the year, and also of which Amount, how much was made up of such parcels as not to be parted for the benefit of depositors. There have been delivered to Mr. Bolton 6.334 $\frac{408}{1000}$ Ozs Stand. Gold for separation, of which 837 $\frac{269}{1000}$ Ozs have been parted for the benefit of Depositors Yielding 375 $\frac{451}{1000}$ Ozs Stand. Silver.

You ask if the workmen are the same in the Melting & Refining Department as were employed by Dr. Gibbon, and who are they? They are the same with the addition of John Riglar and John Frazier, who, before the transfer of the Melting and Refining Department to Mr. Bolton were exclusively under the charge of the Coiner. They were all originally from Phila. with the exception of Frazier who was born and raised in this County and who fills the place vacated by Alexr. Robertson (Blacksmith) You also ask whether Mr. Bolton superintends his Departments personally & carefully? He gives his personal attention to both as much to the one as to the other, but I think with less diligence and care than is consistent with his duties. As respects both departments under his care going on at the same time — I should say very seldom, if ever. In answer to your question whether Mr. Bolton is often absent during working hours, I think not— he is generally with his men while at work.

With regard to his keeping memorandum of all his official transactions— It seems he has heretofore kept none at all, and even his books impart but little information as to the state of his accounts and responsibilities. You desire my opinion upon the private character of his men. I have made an examination of the matter, and I have no reason to suspect the honesty of any of his men. They all sustain good character out of doors, none of them addicted to drink or gambling except Ferree who has gambled a little, but has abandoned the vice— He is an intelligent active man and does his work with great neatness and dispatch. Andrew Erwin the Melter is an industrious hard working man, and I have no doubt in the world of his honesty. John Rigler is a nephew of M. Bolton, and I have no reason to suspect his honesty though he is rather careless in his work. John Frazier (Blacksmith) as I before stated was raised in this County and has always sustained a good character.

Now as to M. Bolton's indebtedness in this place, all that I can say is that he has obtained his certificate of discharge of Bankruptcy— He always has been since here, hard pressed and in sorrow, his Family is large and very extravagant.

M. Bolton is a man of strange temperament— he seems to be destitute of proper sensibility— cold, silent and indifferent even about things touching his private character. I have been unable to extract a word of explanation from him, upon this painful subject, he manifests but little concern about it. I presume you know his character full as well as I do. I have adopted a rule which requires him to settle every month, and make an exhibition of the metals in his hands, and also keep memorandum accounts of all his official transactions, and his books in a better manner. His report of this Monday for the last Month shows the utility of this rule,— the wastage in the last Month on the Coinage was nearly to nothing in comparison with the wastage heretofore— And I entertain the hope that of his wastage had its origin in negligence that he will hereafter discharge the duties of his office with more care and fidelity and prevent the occurrence of such a painful state of things again, for an acquiescence in this continuous deficiency at the end of every year without an explanation, will be not only injurious to innocent men under his charge, but prejudicial to the Mint itself. The above I believe is all the information that I have bearing on the subject and leave the matter with you to dispose of it as you may deem right and proper.

The Articles stated in your letter of the 17 Ult^o we had received, and suspected that the seven carboys were all of common nitric acid as no mark was upon any one of them to distinguish it from common acid, except one with the mark ☞ which upon trial was found not to be so good as even some of the others, consequently we have been unable to assay for the last two weeks and you will find upon reference to my Monthly report accompanying, that we have received a large quantity of Bullion for last month, and that the larger part remains still unassayed. Hereafter would it not be well to have the pure acid labelled "for the Assayer". We expect daily to receive the one last shipped for until it does arrive every thing is perfectly stationary in our operations, as Dr. Gibbon refuses to assay with any acid that is now here, having no mark to indicate that it is pure.

Inclosed you will receive my Monthly Report for Feby last.

Mint of the United States.
March 6, 1844.

Sir,

I have just received your letter of the 1st. inst., with the report for February.

As to that part of your communication which has regard to Mr. Bolton, I will write at another time; but I cannot now withhold the expression of my surprise, that Dr. Gibbon should have seen fit to put a stop to the operations of the Charlotte Mint, and to make it necessary to return a portion of the bullion to the depositors, because he was not satisfied with the purity of a carboy of nitric acid, sent to him as chemically pure, (C.P.) Now it is really of very slight importance whether this acid was of absolute purity or not. The means of purifying it were entirely at Dr Gibbon's command, and I cannot understand why he did not make use of them.

I presume that the only foreign agent in the said carboy was muriatic acid. This is easily thrown down by nitrate of silver. There then remains pure nitric acid, with chloride of silver, and a portion of nitrate of silver. The chloride, being an insoluble salt, subsides to the bottom of the vessel, after a sufficient time; and then the liquid is decanted. It is now the only way I am aware of to separate the nitric acid, from the liquid nitrate of silver, and this is done by distillation. The apparatus used for this process was entirely new furnished to Dr Gibbon, and I presume he still has it in his possession.

and which I presume he still has in his possession.

In truth this process of purification ought to be constantly practised by the gun Assayer, as it is by all the others. At this Mint, the acid employed in assaying is used over again and again. The silver is thrown down by muriatic acid, but so as still to leave some nitrate of silver, and the process is then conducted as above. The economy of this course is so great, that I consider it to be Dr Gibbon's duty to pursue it. I will give you a striking evidence on this question of economy, by stating the fact, that when the Dahlonega Mint first went into operation, one carboy of pure nitric acid was sent to it, and that it is still the only one. So your Mint there have been ten carboys sent, costing together about $500.

At this Mint the Assayers use something less than one carboy of nitric acid in a year, but the loss of acid is almost exclusively in the humid assay of silver. In the assay of gold, there is scarcely any loss ultimate loss, except by the evaporation that takes place in the matrasses, from the boiling acid. I must mention, moreover, that our Assayers never buy pure acid from the Chemists, but take the common parting acid, which is at one-fifth of the price.

and purify it for themselves.

In this view of the whole matter, I am sorry to feel myself impelled to the conclusion, that Dr. Gibbon is responsible for all the inconvenience that has arisen at your Mint, from the interruption in the assays.

P.S. — If Dr. Gibbon is without the retort, receiver, &c., required for distillation, I beg that you will let me know, and the necessary apparatus shall be immediately sent to him.

As soon as all the deposits of Feb. shall have been assayed, I beg you will report to me their amount to enable me to complete my monthly report to the Department.

Charlotte N.C. 15 March 1844

Sir,

As Assayer of this Mint the means of purifying nitric acid by distillation have never been at my command. When, in 1837, I made a requisition for glass tubes of proper size to connect the retorts & receivers — which were sent — I suggested a difficulty which might arise from accidental breakage in a position where no immediate means of repair were accessible — Pure acids has always been furnished to us — but no glass tubes.

Just before I left the Mint in Philadelphia some changes were decided upon in the process used for assaying gold. My instructions, written from the mouth of the Chief Assayer, & read to him before my departure, were — that I must always use fresh acid in assaying by the new process — transferring that containing nitrate of silver to the refinery — As no other instructions have been communicated to me upon this subject, the economy in acids, which appears to be practised at the other mints, was not made here.

From the alterations in the original distribution of the appartments I have no room fitted for a laboratory.

On the 1 November 1843 The Superintendent made a requisition for two carboys of pure acids - in order to prevent delays - and about the same time, 12 carboys were ordered for the refinery. During the winter 7 carboys of nitric acid were received. Carefully examined by the Superintendent and the clerk - and also by the workmen who assisted in lifting them from the waggon. The word PURE, (which has hitherto distinguished every carboy of acid designed for the Refinery,) not being apparent - they were supposed to be part of the acid required by the Refiner - & he began to use them.

No report was made to me of the arrival of pure acid. When it became evident that my supply would be exhausted I enquired meanings of the results - I was then told that a letter had been received stating that a carboy of pure acid was forwarded with 6 carboys for the refinery. I directed samples to be taken from each of the 4 remaining carboys - 3 having been already used. The tests of nitrate of silver & the nitrate of lead & boracic - to which they were subjected acted in the same manner upon all of them. In the opinion of the Superintendent, before whom the tests were made, the precipitation of chloride by the nitrate of silver showed a shade stronger in the carboy, marked NITRIC ACID 109 C.P., than in the others. The other tests caused no evident change in any of them. Indeed we had never before seen such good acids sent for the refinery.

If we had been advised of the novel designation under the hieroglyphic of C.R. The Superintendent would at once have informed me of the arrival of my aide — But no one chanced upon the meaning of the new title. and, indeed, the cowboys were so chafed in the carriage that a more extended description would be useful for so long a journey.

While these things were going on your letter was received instructing us that you had forwarded a second cowboy of your aide — which we know to have been in Columbia S.C. on the 28 Feby. whence waggons are daily arriving — I therefore thought it my duty to await an answer to the letter I urged should be immediately written to you with regard to the works on the cotton — or for the arrival of the second cowboy — before hazarding the use of an equivocal implement. The last sprays made with the old aid were reported on the 15 Feby. All the deposits made since that time, with a single exception, have now been sprayed — & all who required it, have been paid. Until I read your letter of the 6th which the Superintendent requested I would answer, I did not know that any complaint had been made in consequence of a delay which appeared unavoidable — The only case in which bullion was returned was to a merchant going directly to Philadelphia whose deposit was returned at his own request — after the monthly account was made up — It was therefore deducted from it — or otherwise, I am told, would not have been brought to your notice.

I feel conscious of no neglect of duty, on nor do I think I am entitled to responsibility in matters over which I have no control.

I am very respectfully,

J. H. Gibbon
Assayer.

Sir

I now have the honor of sending you my Report for the Month of February completed – in order to save you the trouble of making the additions to my incomplete one of the 1st Inst., I have caused it to be made out in as full a manner as if none had been previously sent.

All that is wanting "to ensure us against such delays" as we experienced last Month, is a set of tubes for the Retort & Receiver which we have in the Mint for the distillation of acid.

It appears that the tubes accompanying the Retort are all of the same calibre, so that they will not fit into each other. The Retort is of the same size as that used in your Mint, so a similar set will answer the Retort & Receiver here. – And in order to provide against accidents would it not be well to send a double set of connecting tubes

Mint of the United States,
April 6, 1844.

Sir,

I send enclosed my account with you for the quarter just ended, showing a balance to your credit, April 1st, of $566.65.

We have taken measures to have a distilling apparatus prepared for your Mint, & it shall be forwarded as soon as it is finished.

I duly received your's of the 22d ult. enclosing your new bond. I added to it my certificate of approval, ~~to it~~ & sent it to the Secretary of the Treasury.

I have had my attention directed towards devising some system for keeping an account of the various transactions of your Coiner & of the wastage resulting. – I have caused a form to be prepared, which I send enclosed, adapted to the operations of coining, & if, upon careful examination, you think it will cover the transactions of your Mint, & effect the object desired, viz. keeping the wastage within bounds, I will have a book prepared & sent to Mr. Bolton. ~~It seems to me that~~ May not every thing ~~may~~ be printed except the figures?

You will observe that the columns under the head of Weighings are entirely subsidiary to the account, & are placed here to avoid the necessity of a preliminary Weighing-book. ~~It~~

The whole is designed to enable the Coiner to keep an account of his own doings, & to judge of the propriety of the loss on each operation. The example given is taken from the Weigh-book of our Coiner. —

I hope soon to send a similar form for the Melting & Refining operations. I shall be happy to receive from you any suggestions. —

U. States Branch Mint
Charlotte N.C. 17th April 1844

Sir

Your favor of the 6th inst was duly received, enclosing your account with me for the first Quarter of 1844 showing a balance to my credit of £566. 65.

I approve very much of the form you enclosed, of a system, for Keeping an account of the various transactions of the Coining Department, and as far as I am able to judge, it is perfectly adapted to effect the object designed — the Keeping of the Wastage within reasonable bounds; for if at any time, his book shews an unusually large wastage, it will be the duty of the Coiner to report the fact, that an examination may be had immediately, if he does not so report, the blame must necessarily be borne by himself, until satisfactorily accounted for.

I have since the commencement of the year, adopted a rule, of making a monthly examination of the state of the precious metals in the vaults of the Coiner, & Melter & Refiner, and at the end of the Quarter, of having an absolute delivery, the same as at the end of the year, with a most beneficial result so far, which added to an examination of their Books, at the same time, will preclude the possibility of any attempt at substituting a larger wastage than really occurs.

Since the commencement of the year I have delivered to the Melter & Refiner 4,700 $\frac{052}{1000}$ Ozs all of which has been accounted for with the exception of about 2 Ozs and which I have no doubt could be recovered from her sweeps, or very nearly so.

In the same space of time I have delivered to the Coiner 4,654,650 Ozs Stand. Bullion, all of which has been also ~~has~~ accounted for in the like satisfactory manner, 1¼ Oz only, being the deficiency a portion of which no doubt, can and will be recovered from his sweepings, wax, saw dust &c

It affords me pleasure to make the above satisfactory statement of the operations of the Coiner & Melter & Refiners and I will feel glad when the Books you design sending, shall arrive, in order to add another check to any accident or error that might have a tendency to mar the present favorable state of their accounts. I agree with you in thinking that every thing may be printed except the figures.

The Melter & Refiner requests that four copper drying Pans, two for gold and two for Silver, be forwarded as soon as possible it being some considerable time, since they were ordered, and he is very much in need of them — He wishes also 2 Carboys of Sulphuric acid to be forwarded at the same time.

On the 3d Inst I forwarded a requisition for some precipitating & separating Pans, Horns & pipes, for 2 casks small sand crucibles, and for 12 Carboys of nitric acid. — it appears to me that we use a large quantity of nitric acid, but I cannot say an unnecessary quantity, as I do not know what quantity may be required for the Refinery, and should be glad to receive from you any suggestions as to a more economical use of it, if it can be done.

I will thank you to send for my Office a Bullion Weigh Book, and a day Book — the day Book ruled with the dollar & cent lines is intended to enter the daily transactions of the Mint, such as the transfer of Bullion from one Officer to another, the payment of Depositors &c

I have the honor to be very respectfully

Sir,

An absence from the city has prevented my earlier acknowledgment of the rect. of your letter of the 17 ult.; and I have now little more to say than that your several requisitions have been taken charge of by my clerk, Mr Downing, will be duly attended to.

The low average title of the gold deposited at your mint puts you under the necessity of so constant a resort to the process of parting, that your large consumption of acid is not to be avoided. At least I do not know that there is any reason to believe that it is excessive. At the Dahlonega Mint, on the other hand, scarcely any parting is necessary, the average fineness of their deposites being about 950 millièmes.

I am very happy to learn that, in consequence of your vigilance, systematic & frequent examination into the state of the bullion, the Wastage has been reduced to its legitimate limit. When we send you the printed forms for the Coiner's workings, your task will be facilitated, & the accountability still better enforced.

Sir

I have the honor of enclosing you my report of the operations of this Branch of the Mint for the current Month in paper marked A.

Would it not be well to urge upon the Committee of Ways & Means the necessity of passing the appropriation for $1.000 for recovering the Roof of this Mint? The Roof is nearly finished, and if the appropriation be not passed at this Session, it will operate as a very great hardship upon the Contractor who is a poor Man and cannot lay out of his money till the next Session of Congress.

I am informed there are several fire proof paints, or cements, for protecting shingle Roofs; would you be kind enough to send us a sufficiency of any such as you may approve of. I will also thank you to send for the Melter & Refiner at your earliest convenience 10 or 12 lbs of corrosive sublimate.

Sir,

I have to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 31st ult., with the report of the proceedings of your Board for May.

In an amended estimate, which I sent to the Department in January, ~~which~~ I introduced the item of $1000 for your roof, and explained the necessity of it. In April last I had an interview with three members of the Committee of Ways & Means, including the Chairman, and I was told that the estimate would be reported by them to the House, as I had presented it. I think, therefore, that you may depend upon the item in question.

I have no faith in any of the paints or cements recommended for the protection of shingle roofs from fire. Perhaps it might be advisable to place a covering of zinc ~~for~~ three or four feet around your chimneys, over the shingles. This is sometimes done here.

Sir,

I send enclosed a statement of my accounts with you for the quarter ending on the 30th inst. A balance remains in my hands, to your credit, of Four hundred & forty 77/100 dollars. ($440.77.)

There are outstanding bills against your Mint amounting to about $750., so that it will be necessary for you to send me four or five hundred dollars.

We shipped yesterday, by the Schr. President, the following articles for your Mint:

One box, containing 6 copper drying pans; 1 doz. Wooden ladles; 12 lb. Corrosive Sublimate; 1 weigh-book, & 1 day book.

3 Hhds. containing 3 large stone precipitating jars.

Also 2 carboys Sulphuric Acid

We have had great difficulty in getting the stone jars made, which has occasioned so ~~great a~~ much delay. The man who made these jars is now making smaller ones for separating, and the hoops & spikes for the refinery.

Charlotte N.C. 27 July 1844

Sir

The United States Branch Mint in this place was entirely consumed by fire this morning. It was discovered between 3 & 6 o'clock in the upper rooms of the Coiners department & advanced so rapidly that much damage has been done to the various machinery as well as to the building.
No fires have been made by the workmen for a week past when the conflagration originated - a committee of the citizens are now investigating its causes.
The roof - floors - & wooden fixtures are generally consumed - & the walls are tottering & falling. Much private property as books - papers clothing & other matters belonging to the Superintendent & myself has been consumed. The workmen are employed in protecting the public property.
The Bullion & coin were withdrawn & deposited in the State Branch Bank together with the Treasurers Books.
This is all I can write at present

I am very respectfully

BURNING OF THE BRANCH MINT.

Mocksville, Aug. 11, 1844.

Dear Sir: After the discharge of Calvin, Mr. Caldwell and Col. Gaither, requested me to write the opinion I had delivered, and enclose it to you, so that they might obtain copies.

Yours, &c.,
RICHMOND M. PEARSON.

Jas. Osborn, Esq.

Calvin a slave, the property of B. S. Gaither, was brought before me, upon the information of William A. Todd, charged with wilfully and maliciously burning the dwelling house of Green W. Caldwell, situated on the piece of ground purchased by the United States in the Town of Charlotte, and the building, erected on said piece of ground by the United States for the purposes of the Branch Mint, parcel of said dwelling house. The evidence being closed—I remarked that in examinations before a committing Magistrate, the question was, not whether the evidence was sufficient to convict if the prisoner was on trial, but whether the evidence made out probable cause, so as to warrant further proceedings. That to make out probable cause it was necessary to establish two propositions—that the burning was the act of some incendiary, and not the effect of accident or negligence; and that the evidence pointed to the prisoner, and fixed upon him a strong suspicion of being the incendiary.

As to the first, I am satisfied that the burning was the act of an incendiary; from the state of the fire when first discoved, it is clear that it started in the garret over the Coiner's room. The garret had no floor, the space between the joists, and the rafters and sheeting of the roof above the Coiner's room was four feet—laths attached to the lower side of the joists, supported the plastering over the room—many of these laths had burned in two, and had fallen with the plastering upon the floor of the Coiner's room—that floor was burned through—the hole was in a circular shape about two feet one way, two feet the other: Coals of fire had fallen on the floor of the Engine room, which was under the Coiner's room, but the floor of the Engine room although on fire had not burnt through. The flame of the fire on the floor of the engine room did not reach up more than ten inches—this room having a pitch of ten feet and being plastered overhead, it was not possible for the fire on the floor to have communicated with the floor of the Coiner's room through the plastering above. The flame of the fire on the Coiner's room did not reach up more than three feet; the pitch of this room being ten feet, plastered overhead, it was not possible for the fire on this floor to have communicated with the joists and laths above, through the plastering. The flame of the fire in the joists and laths had not reached up to the rafters and sheeting, and although much smoke was bursting through the roof yet it was not on fire—this being the state of the fire when the building was first entered. I am satisfied that the fire started among the joists and laths of the garret, burnt through, fell on the floor of the Coiner's room, burnt through and fell on the floor of the Engine room, and from the fire on the floor of the Engine room, the building was set on fire.

The next question is, was there probable cause to believe the prisoner the incendiary? The evidence is, that the prisoner was a slave, the property of Col. Gaither, who had charge of the Mint, and had been employed in the Mint for twelve months; that he had been seen in the garret of the Mint, and had been heard to say that he could burn it down; that he had been heard to say that he could burn down the Mint, and that he would burn it down; that he had been heard to say that he could burn down the Mint, and that he would burn it down, and that he could get his master back to the Mint, and that he would do it; that he had been heard to say that he could burn down the Mint, and that he would burn it down, and that he could get his master back to the Mint, and that he would do it, and that he could get his master back to the Mint, and that he would do it, and that he could get his master back to the Mint, and that he would do it the engine room.

How did the fire get among the joists and laths is the next question. The suggestion that there might have been a combustion of some acid is answered by the proof that there was no acid in the building excepting a small quantity of muriatic acid which was not near either of the three places on fire, and particularly that there was no acid in the garret.

The suggestion that the fire might have been communicated from the chimney of the engine which goes through the garret, near where the fire started—is answered by the proof that the engine had not been used for ten days—there was no fire used about the Mint for ten days before: The suggestion that the fire might have been negligently dropped from a segar by some Students who were at the Mint about 2 o'clock on the evening before, and went up on the roof by a door which opened into the garret, then through a trap door in the roof, passing near where the fire started, is answered, first, because it is not proven that any of them had a segar; second, the testimony of Lentile, who swore he was working with Mr. Taylor fixing the cornice of the mint—that some two hours after the students left, wanting nails he went on the roof, opened the trap door, went down through the garret to the other door, which he found fastened, and came back and descended the ladder which was used on the outside: that afterwards about sundown, he again went into the garret thro' the trap door, put away some tools, closed the trap door, and came down the ladder—that on neither occasion did he discover any fire in the garret, and that if there had been any, he must have seen or smelt it, particularly if it had been near the Coiner's room, for he passed immediately over it. There being no way to account for the fire as the effect of accident or negligence, my inference is, that it was the act of an incendiary.

It being also proven, that on the evening before, all the doors of the building were locked, and that they were all found locked on the next morning when the alarm of fire was given, and that no person slept in the house that night, it seems clear that the incendiary ascended the ladder, got on the roof, raised the trap door, and went down into the garret.

The next question is, does the evidence show probable cause against the prisoner?

The evidence relied on to show probable cause, is, that in the summer of 1843 Col. Gaither, the owner of the prisoner, was removed from the Mint, and carried the prisoner to the County of Burke, separating him from his wife, a free mulatto, who lived near Charlotte—that two days before the fire, the prisoner came to Charlotte, alledging that he came to see his wife, and remained about there until the day after the fire. That on the night before the fire, the prisoner slept in the room of Dick, a slave, and that about two hours before day, Dick discovered that the prisoner was not in his bed, and the prisoner did not return to bed until about day light, soon after which the alarm of fire was made,—that while the building was in flames, prisoner had his horse about the streets, at one time on his back, at another time holding him at the door of a grog shop, but did not go and render assistance—and that according to the testimony of Cynthia, a slave, the prisoner in the summer of 1843, soon after Col. Gaither was removed, met witness in the street, complained that his master had been removed to make way for Mr. Caldwell, and said it would do him no good, for it would be in ashes before long. Witness told him he ought not to talk so—he swore it would be in ashes, and no one would know who did it. And further that witness on the night of the fire, about midnight, at the Spring, three bats. It is shown moreover that the prisoner is a negro of good character, and so far from being malicious or vindictive, is submissive and well disposed, and was never known to be drunk or indulge in threats except on that occasion, when he seemed to be in much trouble about his wife and Peter, and was almost too drunk to walk about bed time.

I am entirely satisfied from the evidence alluded to, and the other evidence offered that there is no ground to believe the prisoner guilty, and shall order him to be discharged.

A large and respectable meeting of the miners of Gold Hill and its vicinity met according to previous notice. The meeting was organised by calling Col. GEORGE BARNHART to the Chair, and appointing Dr. HUGH KELLY and E. MAUNEY as Secretaries.—The object of the meeting being ably and fully explained by Col. H. Fullenwider, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Sir

At the request of Mr Caldwell whose state of health is at present rather infirm, and who has been sorely tried and afflicted in the recent death of his truely amiable Lady, I have the honor of transmitting to you a list of the Articles which have been destroyed, and will consequently be needed in the Assaying, Melting & Refining, and Coining Departments of the Branch of the Mint, as reported by the Officers in charge of those Departments.

For the Assaying Department

a set of assay weights for Gold a pair of fine forceps for assays a small copper still and worm to distill water a sheet of copper for assay pans
a carboy of pure acid for assays

Our loss in public property will not I suppose exceed 50 dollars in value

J. H. Gibbon. Assayer

For the Melting Department.

One copper drainer for granulating mixed metal
Two iron wire seives No 2.

For the Separating Department

Two cedar tubs lined with lead for reducing the Silver after separating
Three precipitating Jars, 6 large glass Jars for precipitating acid 10 stone ware basins, 3 sections of garden hose 25 feet each
6. two gallon stone ware pitchers, 2 one gallon glass pitchers, 4 Siphons
200 feet 1¼ inch lead pipe. 6 set of copper wire chains for counter weights for the beams for separating. 12 beams and 12 scales. 8 cast iron pans for separating furnace

1 large Strainer for filtering Silver. 4 copper pans for drying Gold
2 copper Tea Kettles.

For the Coining Department

1 Copper roaster, 2 copper pans, - one long for rolling strips - the other short for cleaning planchets. 1 copper pan for waxing strips. 1 brass wire sieve No 2. 6 iron wire sieves, two of them No 2, and four of them No 4. 4 pair of scales for the adjusting room, one large (to weigh 100 pieces) and three small.

John R. Bolton
Coiner & Melter & Refiner

You will perceive that Mr Bolton has made no estimate of the cost of the Articles needed for his Departments - It would necessarily be very imperfect, and we thought it would be as well to leave it to your better opportunities of ascertaining the value of such Articles in the place where they would have to be sent.

In regard to the rebuilding of the Mint, Mr Caldwell respectfully suggests for your consideration, that it should be but one story and a half, and so constructed as to have all the operations on the first floor and basement stories, thereby dispensing with the Superintendents family apartments. He makes this suggestion not only upon the ground of economy, but also upon those of comfort & convenience in the processes of Minting, besides the protection it would afford in case of accident - the walls then, it is supposed would do to build upon from the joists of the 2d floor, which would save a large item in the expense, and add largely to the expedition with which the Mint could be put into operation - Mr Caldwell desires no rooms in the Building, save his Offices and a sleeping room.

From the trial he has made Mr Caldwell has discovered, that he will be unable to get any thing like a true estimate of the cost of rebuilding, unless he advertises for proposals, and the only difficulty he has on this point, is, whether he would be warranted in receiving proposals for rebuilding the Mint, differing in construction from its original specifications or plan. If you should think his ideas relative to the alteration in restoring the Building entitled to consideration, he asks your permission to advertize for both plans, and leave the utility and propriety of each for your discretion

As to a temporary establishment he supposes it will depend very much on Mr. Eckfeldts report to you on the state of the Machinery Should the Secretary of the Treasury deem it expedient to put the Mint into temporary operation, the cheapest and most expeditious method would be to repair the rear Building at once, which with the Kitchen as Offices, would answer till the whole Building was restored -

After he has got proposals for rebuilding, and received from you an estimate of the cost of Machinery, he will then be enabled to make a full estimate of the expense of restoring the Mint to its former condition and efficiency -

Charlotte N.C. 28th July 1844

Sir

The melancholy duty devolves upon me of informing you of the total destruction of the Mint Building by fire yesterday morning about day light. The fire originated in the Coining Room, but how it could have got there is inexplicable, as there had been no fire in that end of the Building, since the last Coinage, which was about 10 days ago.

The front and side Walls are still standing, but in a very tottering condition, and will soon fall. I am unable to state at present how much damage has been done to the machinery, owing to the body of the building being filled with rubbish, into which it was all precipitated — but I believe, as far as I am able to judge that the Engine and Boiler are uninjured.

All the Books, Papers, Coin and Bullion, with the exception of some Silver, which was in a state of solution in the Refinery, and the most valuable furniture belonging to the Mint have been saved, but almost all my own private property being in the Rooms up stairs has been destroyed. All the out Buildings have been preserved. No blame is attached to the Officers or Men of the Mint, the common opinion being that it has been the work of some wilful incendiary.

If upon examination it should be found that the machinery is not too much damaged, we think that at a small expense the Brick Kitchen with some additions may be fitted up to carry on the Operations of Coining, while the Assay apartments with their appurtenances are very little damaged, until Congress convenes, should it meet with your approbation.

By the next mail, I shall transmit you my usual Monthly Report and such other information relative to the destruction of the Building as I may be able to obtain —

I have forwarded a copy of this letter to the Secretary of the Treasury by this same mail.

Sir,

~~You are already informed, by a~~ and Stranger
The Superintendent of the Branch
Mint at Charlotte has conveyed to me the melancholy information that the Mint Building in that place was destroyed by fire on the morning of the 27th ult.

It appears that the fire was first discovered ~~broke out~~ between 3 and 4 o'clock in the morning, in the upper rooms of the Coin's department; and ~~that~~ no fires having been made by in that department for more than a ~~the workmen~~ week before, it is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.

The Superintendent states that "all the books, papers, coin, and bullion, (with the exception of some silver in a state of solution in the refinery,) have been saved;" and he expresses a hope that the machinery is so little injured that it may be fitted up in one of the out-buildings, so as to make it practicable to carry on the operations. The Army departments, with their appurtenances, are reported to be but little damaged. All the out-building, are preserved.

Further information is promised by the next mail.

Sir,

I have just rec'd your letter of the 28th ult., conveying the melancholy intelligence that your Mint Building has been destroyed by fire.

I am happy to find that you were able to save the books, papers, coin, and bullion, & that the out buildings have not been injured.

You express a hope that the machinery may not have been seriously damaged. If it has been in the fire, however, so as to be heated to redness, I fear that it will be found nearly useless.

I await with anxiety the further information which you promise; and, in the mean while, I can do nothing more than express my confidence that you will pursue a judicious course in the sad & difficult circumstances in which you are placed.

I wrote you upon the 28th Ulto informing you of the destruction of the Mint by fire on the morning of the 27th, and that by the next mail I would forward my usual monthly Report with such other information relative to the damage sustained by the machinery, &c as I could collect.

It was only this morning that Mr Bolton has been enabled to make his report of the State of the machinery, in which he says that "the "Steam Engine can be repaired and ready for running in a short time — the Rolling "Mills have not been damaged much — the drawing machinery has been broken "nearly to pieces with the exception of the chain and wheels — the Milling Machine, with "a little expense and labour can be repaired — the cutting Presses can be repaired "with new fly wheels — the Coining Presses are much damaged, though it is very probable "that one can be repaired (fitted up) out of the two — the Power Lathe has been so much "damaged, that he thinks, it is impossible to repair it — the foot Lathe may be repaired with "a little labour and expense — the small tools of every description were pre[illegible] to the "bottom of the ruins — that many of them have been got out, and may be useful again, "such as screw plates, taps, and dies for cutting screws, — that all the adjusting scales, with "the exception of a small pair in his Office have been destroyed." He also states that "the "destruction of the implements in the Refinery has been very severe, nothing has been saved "except some Silver and a few glass Jars. — The Melting has not met with much loss "with the exception of the Swages, which were in barrels standing under the fire 2200, and "which are literally covered with the ruins of the walls — that there is still some hope of "collecting the greater portion of them." — The Workmen are employed in assorting, cleaning up and storing away the Machinery.

We have apprehended Col Gaither's Servant Boy Calvin and lodged him in Jail upon a Bench Warrant on pretty strong evidence that he burned the Mint - he will be examined before one of our State Judges on Saturday next for commitment or dismissal, the result of which investigation will be communicated.

Mint N. C. May 12 / 46

Sir,

I have the honor to send inclosed a copy of a letter received this morning from the Superintendent of the Branch Mint at Charlotte, giving a more detailed account of the injury done to the building and machinery.

You will no doubt deem it necessary that an estimate should be prepared of the cost of restoring the machinery and the building; for as the expenditure must form an important element in the question of an appropriation for reestablishing the Mint, information with regard to it will certainly be required by Congress. There seems, moreover, to be some doubt entertained by the Superintendent, that the Mint may be set into temporary operation with the means now at Command.

To ascertain these points, I would suggest the propriety of my sending from here some competent person to examine into the condition of the machinery &c., and to make detailed report thereon.

I have thought of asking this service either of the Chief Coiner, or of the Foreman of this Mint, and the ~~expense~~ cost of the mission would therefore be confined to the travelling expenses.

I ~~ask~~ respectfully apply for your authority to carry into execution the course here suggested.

Sir

Charlotte, N.C. Aug. 13. 1814.

Above you have a check for $500. which had escaped my attention through the confusion that we have been in, since the burning of the Mint

In mine of the 7th Inst. I informed you that Col. Gaithers Boy had been arrested on suspicion of being the incendiary, and promised to give you the result of the investigation. Upon investigation before the Judge, the States Witnesses who were principally Slaves, told so contradictory and unsatisfactory a story that the Judge was compelled to discharge him. The evidence on that investigation satisfied the Judge that the origin of the fire was the effect of design and not of accident.

I am now satisfied, that my private apartments were robbed previous to the fire, and that the Mint was set on fire to conceal the robbery. You had been informed by Mr Strange, that I had left Charlotte some time before in consequence of ill health — I was at my Mothers in Lincoln County about 14 Miles from Town and had left my apartments in possession of a person by the name of Todd, who promised that he would sleep there every night during my absence, and in whom I had the utmost confidence that he would do so, but who has sadly neglected the the trust Reposed in him.

The facts will more fully appear in the Judge's opinion which he has promised to write out and publish, and which will be forwarded to you for your satisfaction as soon as received.

I have not however ceased my exertions to ferret out the perpetrators, as there was something dropped upon the examination, which may eventually lead to the detection of the right persons.

I enclose you an Ac against the Dahlonega Mint sent to this Mint by mistake for which you will please give me credit.

CHARLOTTE AUG 14 N.C.

Aug. 16, 1844.

Mr. James C. Smyth, (accompanied by Mr. Meigs,) came to the Mint to make a deposite of gold. — He is from Charlotte, the town in which Mr. Gaither resides. He gave me the following information regarding the fire at the Charlotte Mint.

The shingling of the roof was in progress at the time; and Mr. Todd was the Carpenter. He had engaged to sleep in the building, and had been in the habit of doing so; but was absent from it on the night of the fire.

It is asserted that there was no one in the Mint on the night of the fire; and that Mr. Caldwell was not in Charlotte at the time. [He went to me known from there the following day.]

Mr. Gaither's servant, who has been accused of the incendiary, had a wife a Charlotte, whom he had married while his master resided there. — He was, at the time of the fire, on a visit to his wife. He had boasted that Mr. Clay would be elected, and that his master and he would come back to the Mint: [Certainly no reason why he should burn it down.] The principal cause of his being suspected seems to be that he was absent from his wife on the night of the fire. His account of himself was that he had gone to see the girls.

Mr. Smyth reported that the assaying was resumed at the Mint.

Memorandum of matters to be attended to by George Eckfeldt, on his visit to the Charlotte Mint.

To examine into the present condition of the machinery, and to report in detail thereon: viz.

1st. The Steam-engine. To be taken apart for examination. Condition of cylinder, piston-rod, crank, &c., with reference especially to warping & rust. The boilers & steam pipes. To report whether the engine can be repaired so as to be again fitted for use; what repairs will be necessary; whether they can be made at Charlotte; what will be their probable cost.

2d. The condition of the shafting.

3d. The condition of the rolls, including the housings and geering.

4th. The draw-bench.

5th. The cutting-presses.

6th. The milling machines.

7th. The coining presses.

Next to ~~my~~ examine into the condition of the annealing ~~furn~~ and cleaning furnaces.

The pumps and tanks.

The scales & beams, of any kind.

The lathes, and tools of any kind.

The practicability of fitting up the machinery of the Mint for temporary operation.

Sir,

On the 12th inst., I had the honor to send to you a copy of a letter of the 7th, from the Superintendent of the Branch Mint at Charlotte, respecting the destruction of the Mint building by fire. I now send herewith an extract of another letter just received on the same subject.

In the suggestion which I took the liberty to make, of the propriety of sending a competent person to report on the condition of the machinery &c. at the Charlotte Mint, I neglected to mention, that I as the Coiner of that Mint, Mr. J. R. Bolton, is not a machinist, I cannot think that a report and estimate from him would be satisfactory. On the other hand, our own Chief Coiner, Mr. Peale, is thoroughly of whom I proposed to ask this service, is not only competent as a mechanician, but is particularly ~~calculated~~ fitted for the task by the circumstance of his having ~~superintended, the arrang on the spot, the arrangements~~ devised the machinery &c. of the Charlotte Mint, and superintended, on the spot, the arrangements necessary for putting that Mint into operation.

Sir,

At the earliest practicable day, you will please to set out for Charlotte, North Carolina, for the purpose of making a particular examination into the present condition of the machinery of the Branch Mint at that place, and reporting to me in detail thereon.

I would call your attention particularly to the following points.

1st. The condition of the Steam-engine, which will be taken apart for examination. The state of the cylinder, piston-rod, crank, &c., with reference especially to warping from the fire, and to rust. The state of the boilers, steam-pipes, &c.

2d. The condition of the shafting.

3d. The condition of the rolls including the housing and gearing.

4th. The draw-bench.

5th. The cutting-presses.

6th. The milling-machines.

7th. The coining presses.

8th. The annealing and cleaning furnaces.

9th. The pumps and tanks.

10th. The lathes, and tools of every kind.

11th. The scales and beams.

You will please, in every case, to consider the practicability of repairing the instruments in question; and, when repair is deemed practicable, the probable cost thereof. You will consider, also, what work can be done at Charlotte, and what must be done elsewhere. You will also particularly consider, and report upon, the practicability of fitting up the machinery of the Mint for temporary operations.

The object of your mission to Charlotte, is to obtain accurate information as to the probable cost of restoring the mint to the condition in which it was placed before the occurrence of the late destructive fire. You will please, therefore, to direct your inquiries to all points that may bear upon this question, though the special purpose for which you have been selected, and for which you are deemed particularly competent, has regard to the coining department.

Your travelling and other necessary expenses, during your absence, will be paid by the Mint, and you will please, therefore, to keep a particular account of these expenses.

Sir,

I have received this morning, a letter from the Secretary of the Treasury, of which I send you a copy herewith.

Under the authority therein granted, I have given instructions to Mr. George Eckfeldt, the Foreman of this Mint, and an excellent Mechanic, to repair himself to you at Charlotte, at as early a day as practicable, and to make such investigations into the present conditions of the machinery, as may enable us to form a just estimate of the cost of repairing it, or of replacing it. I pray you, therefore, to give him every facility for obtaining the necessary information.

Of yourself I have to beg that you will procure, from competent persons, estimates, in as much detail as possible, of the cost of putting the Mint building to its former condition. I see no objection, indeed, should you deem it advisable, to your advertising for proposals for rebuilding the Mint, — subject, of course, to the action of Congress.

You will please to ask the Coiner to assist Mr. Eckfeldt in the investigations and estimates regarding the machinery. I ask, also, that he make report, through you, ~~into the~~ of the condition of the melting-furnaces, moulds, and fixtures generally, of the melting department, and of the apparatus used in separating gold and silver. I would be glad, if it be practicable, that this report should be accompanied by estimates of the cost of replacing the articles injured or destroyed.

I would also ask, through you, of the Assayer, a report of the amount of injury done in his department; the repairs necessary; and the articles to be replaced; with an estimate of the probable cost.

I beg you, generally, to take all such steps as may enable us to present a ~~just~~ true estimate of the cost of restoring the Charlotte Mint, ~~at least~~ to the condition and efficiency which it enjoyed before the late disastrous conflagration

Your letter of the 5th Inst, requesting me to furnish You with modified estimate for this Branch of the Mint, commencing on the 1st of July next, has been received.

Owing to the late disaster of this Mint, and its present condition, a less amount than its usual appropriation will be amply sufficient to carry on its operations for the next year. The Contingent Funds of the last appropriation remains unexpended, which I think will pay all contingencies for the next year, besides four hands instead of five will be quite efficient force for the labour — I therefore respectfully submit the following estimate for the fiscal year commencing on the 1st July 1845 and ending 30th June 1846.

" " Pay of Laborers in various Departments"	2.808.

Sir,

I have this morning rec'd yours letter of the 27th ult. The assay slips are in the hands of the Assayer & will be reported upon without delay. I have in consequence of a remark made in your letter written to Mr Burringer & have suggested to him the course which I think best to be pursued in order to bring the question of rebuilding your Mint promptly & advantageously before Congress. It is the adoption of a resolution calling "upon the Secy of the Treasy for an estimate of the cost of again placing the Branch Mint at Charlotte in North Carolina in a condition for resuming its operations"

If this resolution be adopted the Secy will of course refer it to me and I am prepared to make report to him with all the necessary drawings Specifications & estimates. I have a set of these ready to be sent to you by the first opportunity. You will see that I have adopted your suggestion of making the building but one story high. I have however raised the basement considerably. The drawings arrangements estimates &c have been ably devised and executed by Mr. Peale. The whole has been done in triplicate: one copy for the Secretary one for you and one for me. The charge for the labor &c is $207.50 which I think a fair claim upon your contingent fund & which I therefore propose to pay out of the moneys belonging to your Mint now in my hands.

I entirely approve of your proposed visit to Washington which I think may be very useful. I hope that you will extend your journey to Phila.

In presenting an estimate of the expenses of your Mint for the next fiscal year I have taken the liberty to vary from that which you had made & had laid before me. If your Mint goes again into operation you will find more than usual calls upon your contingent fund & I do not think it would be prudent to omit that item in the estimate. You had also cut down the estimate for Wages; but I have restored it in order that you may employ a door keeper & watchman. My estimate stands thus

Wages	3500
Contingents	1500.

The package of gold bullion announced in your letter of Nov. 15, was rec'd by us on the 9th inst., & I now send enclosed the Mint rect. & memorandum.

You will observe that our weights correspond very closely with those reported by you, except for No. 7, in which you have committed an error of 100 dwts. You make the weight 377 dwts., while we found it 277 dwts 9½ grs. I hope this mistake will not give rise to any embarrassment on your part.

Sir,

I have now the honor to reply to your letter of the 7th inst., requesting me "to furnish the Department, as early as may be, with an estimate of the cost of again placing the Branch Mint at Charlotte, North Carolina, in a condition for resuming its operations."

From the officers of the Charlotte Mint, and from a special agent sent from here, with your appropriation, to examine into the state of the machinery, I have obtained, as I believe, all the requisite information as to the amount of damage done by the fire which occurred on the 27th of July last.

Of the Main Building, it may be assumed that nothing is left that can be made available, except a portion of the materials, and perhaps of the old foundations. The out-buildings were all saved.

In the Department of the Superintendent and Treasurer, the cost, building, [illegible] scale-beams, furniture, books, and papers were saved.

In the Assay-department, and in the Melting-room, but little injury was done.

In the Separating-room, the destruction was more considerable, but all the boilers & apparatus and material can be replaced, without resort to any new appropriation.

In the Coining department, the steam-engine was but slightly injured, and may be put into working order at a small cost.— The shafting may be repaired, and also the bearings and gearing of the rolls.— The draw-bench is so much injured that it will be expedient to replace it by a new one.— Of the cutting-presses, one can be repaired, but the other must be replaced.— The coining-presses are past repair; but one new press will be quite sufficient for the work.— The milling-machine and the rolls are destroyed.— In the machine-shop, all the lathes and tools of every kind are destroyed.

In regard to the new building which it is proposed to erect, the Superintendent, Mr. Caldwell, has suggested the advantage as well as the economy of confining it to one story above the basement. All the operations could then be amply provided for in this arrangement, while they would be more directly under the view of the officers, and thus convenience and safety secured at the same time. ~~I therefore agree with the Cashier in the propriety of this change.~~

Having called for professional advice and assistance, I send you herewith plans of the proposed building, with full specifications, and a detailed estimate of the cost. The whole amount is $25,000.

I also send estimates, in detail, of the cost of the new machinery which will be needed, and of the repairs required to the old; the whole amount of which is $10,000.

The appropriations necessary "for placing the Branch Mint at Charlotte in a condition for resuming its operations" is therefore estimated at $35,000.

Dear Sir,

The question of rebuilding the Branch Mint at Charlotte N.C. involving an appropriation was sent at an early day to the Committee of Ways & Means - Possibly, if that Committee insert the appropriation in the annual appropriation bill, as they probably will, its chance for success is almost certain; whereas if presented as an isolated bill on the Calendar it would not probably be reached without constant effort to bring it up. The Com. of Ways & Means have not yet reported - but will in a few days - The precise shape of the appropriation I do not yet know - but presume it will be simply to direct the necessary amount to rebuild mint, to be spent under the direction of the Secretary of Treasury & Director of the Mint at Phila.

The report of the Secretary in answer to the resolution I offered has been made & printed so far as it embraces the Estimate of cost &c - but by some inadvertence, either in the printer or in the Secretary, your letter has not been printed, though ordered to be as you will see by the enclosed document. I send you - If the Secretary has omitted to send it on his Communication, it will be forthcoming on a day or two, as I have directed the Clerk to write to him for it — If you have a copy of it, however, I would be glad to have one from you on receipt of this note —

I shall be glad to have any suggestions from you as to the particular frame of the clause in the bill making the appropriation, placing the general control of its expenditure to yourself & the Secretary.

My general idea was to invest you & the Secretary with the whole power, having regard to utility, fitness & economy in the disbursement of the money necessary for the purpose of re-establishing the Mint.

As soon as the Committee report their Bill, I shall write you more fully —

With high regard
Yours truly.

Sir,

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 2d inst., ~~making inquiry whether the salaries of the officers of the Branch Mint at Charlotte are still paid, whether these officers have~~ and, in reply to it, I have to state, first, that the Officers of the Branch Mint at Charlotte still continue to hold their commissions and to receive their salaries; and that, at my last advices, ~~on the matter~~, the workmen, not exceeding four in number, were ~~are~~ still employed about the establishment, and receive wages.

The question of the propriety of discontinuing the offices, ~~in their~~ should, in my judgment, be made to depend upon the action of Congress with regard to the proposed measure of again putting this Mint in operation. ~~The~~ I know that the Assayer and Coiner depend upon their present ~~offices and~~ salaries for the support of themselves and their families. If this resource should be cut off, it would be necessary for these gentlemen, to seek other employment, and, no doubt, in other places. How, then, could there be any certainty of ~~being~~ ~~able to~~ commanding their services, rendered peculiarly valuable by their ~~[illegible]~~ skill and experience, — when these services may be required? They appear to me to be in the position of officers of the army or navy, who though not actually employed, are held under orders. ~~and with regard to whom they are receiving pay.~~ But, if ~~the~~ it be determined that the Charlotte Mint shall be again rebuilt and set in operation, the officers can immediately make themselves useful, — and particularly the Superintendent, under whose immediate charge the work ought, in my opinion, to be placed, and not, as before, in the hands of a Special Commissioner. The Coiner, too, would be of ~~[illegible]~~ almost indispensable service in ~~the~~ setting up and putting into action the new machinery; ~~In deed, if if the Mint is to be again put in operation, I think~~ and Analogous duties would be required of the Assayer in his department. If then, the Mint is to be restored, I think it would be impolitic to ~~interfere with~~ interrupt its present official organization.

I have been informed, by the Superintendent, that the workmen have been usefully employed in removing rubbish, and in other necessary labors about the building, and in guarding the premises. I do not know ~~to~~ whether they are all still needed for such services, or indeed whether they are all still under pay. If, however, the building and machinery are to be restored, it is certain that these men could be at once made very useful.

Dear Sir,

I thank you for your prompt answer to my inquiries.

There is but one objection to the course which has been given to the question of rebuilding the Branch Mint at Charlotte, and that may, I hope, be removed, by introducing a special provision. The appropriations are usually made, in the great bill, for the following fiscal year, and that does not commence till July next. If the appropriation "for placing the Branch Mint at Charlotte in a condition for resuming its operations" be not available until that time, the most important period of the year would be lost, and the object in view would be most injuriously delayed.

The simple form which you suggest for carrying out the purpose of the appropriation will answer the purpose perfectly. It places the power & responsibility in the right hands

Sir,

I beg leave to ask your attention to the following paragraphs, in the recent appropriation act, having reference to the Branch Mint at Charlotte, North Carolina.

"For the erection of a building in the place of the one destroyed by fire, twenty-five thousand dollars; and the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby required to arrange the plan of the building, and the execution of it, that the whole cost of the building shall not exceed the aforesaid sum.

"For the purchase of machinery and tools, including repairs of the old, and contingencies, ten thousand dollars; and that the expenditure of the appropriations for the erection of the building and the purchase and repair of machinery be commenced as soon as practicable after the passage of this act."

In consequence of a call from the House of Representatives, the Secretary of the Treasury applied to me, on the 7th of December last, for an estimate of the cost of again placing the Branch Mint at Charlotte in a condition for resuming its operations."

I replied on the 14th of the same month, and sent to the Department plans of the proposed building, with full specifications, and a detailed estimate of the cost. I also presented estimates in detail of the cost of the new machinery needed, and of the repairs required to the old.

The appropriations made were founded on these estimates, and corresponded with them.

I presume that the first steps required, ~~to be taken~~ in the execution of the work thus provided for ~~by the resolutions of the Charlotte Mint~~ is that the plans ~~which~~ submitted to the Department shall become your appropriation. If this be given, it will then ~~be necessary that an agent or agents be employed for carrying into effect the~~ rest with you to select an agent or agents for carrying them into execution.

When the Branch Mints were ~~erected and to be~~ established, the general superintendence of the work was committed to the Director of the Mint; and if it be your pleasure to take the same course now, I will set on foot the needful measures, without delay.

~~The~~ On the former occasion, the erection of the buildings was entrusted to a Commissioner, who made the contracts, and paid the moneys. I would suppose that this duty should now be performed by the superintendent under the instructions of the Director, and as, he has a salary, without under the act, his salary would, in this case, be contingent, I think that no commission should be allowed on his disbursements.

The new machinery must be made in Philadelphia, and part of it, perhaps, at this Mint. This will of course be committed to me. It would become my duty to place the work in proper hands.

Having thus laid this matter before you, respectfully, I now await your instructions with regard to it.

Sir,

I send enclosed a copy of so much of the appropriating act as has reference to the Charlotte Branch Mint.

I regret exceedingly the condition which suspends the payment of salaries to the officers until the Mint is in a condition to resume its operations. My views on this matter were asked, ~~and given by~~ by the Secretary of the Treasury, by desire of the Committee of Ways & Means, on the 2d of January, and I presented them in such a manner as I hoped would have permitted this step. It was only on consulting the act, at the office of the Secretary of State, on a visit at Washington, whence I have just returned, that I found my reasoning had led to nothing more than the introduction of a proviso, which, I fear, can be effectual only for ~~good~~ evil. I am the more impressed by this apprehension by the fact that such was the opinion expressed by Mr. Secretary Walker at an interview which I had with him on the 11th inst.

I have laid before the Secretary my views as to course to be pursued for the reorganization of your Mint, and I now only await his instructions, in order to communicate with you on the subject. I have proposed that there should be no Commissioner appointed, but that the duties of superintending the erection of the building, and making the disbursements, should be given to the Superintendent.

I am now informed, ~~that~~ (I hope not correctly,) that the remaining machinery has been left exposed to the weather, and to depredations. I feel it my duty to call your attention immediately to this subject.

Your favor of the 14th Inst. enclosing a copy of so much of the Appropriation Act as refers to this Branch of the Mint, has been received and I regret to find that the proviso suspending the salaries of the Officers has been retained, which will operate as a very great hardship upon them as they are all poor.

I suppose that I will retained as Superintendent of the Building, and if so, I shall make application at the proper time to retain the services of the Clerk, should you think it would be available.

I am very surprized that any person should have informed you "that the remaining machinery has been left exposed to the weather", as such is not the fact. The light and fine pieces were immediately put away, cleaned and oiled, and have been under lock and key in the Kitchen ever since — the heavier and coarser pieces were put under a shed protected from the weather.

I do not know to whom I am indebted for giving you such information, but suppose it was some of the citizens of this section of Country, who, profess to be very friendly to the Mint, but have always been its secret and bitter opponents.

These reports however do not trouble me much, especially as I am able to satisfy you of their being utterly unfounded, for I assure you that not only has the machinery been taken care of, but the lot itself has been attended to, is under lock and key, and the almost daily inspection of either Mr. Strange or myself —

Charlotte N.Ca 16th April 1845.

Sir

Your letter of the 5th Inst was received, accompanied by a copy of a letter to you from the Secy of the Treasury, and the specifications for rebuilding the Branch Mint in this place.

Under those instructions and specifications, I have engaged with a single Contractor to do the whole work, conceiving that it would be more faithfully and speedily executed under one contract, than under two or three — the responsibility not being divided, one would feel himself under greater inducements to see that the whole was properly and faithfully executed than being divided into 3 or more contracts, each only looked to his own portion of the work to be executed.

Mr Henry L. Owens, a resident of this place, with whom I have contracted, is a faithful and skillful workman, a man of character and responsibility, and one who will take a deep interest in the faithful execution of the work. He enters into Bond with ample security in the penal sum of $30.000 for the faithful performance of the work according to the instructions, specifications and drawings of the Building by the 1st day of January 1846, for which I agree to give him on behalf of the Government $20.000. He commences operations immediately, I will therefore thank you to have the drawings forwarded to me at your earliest convenience.

I have no doubt I have made a good contract for the Government in every point of view, not only in saving $5.000. of the appropriation but also in insuring a well executed Building, by contracting with a resident of this place in whom the community have every confidence — not so with those who might come from abroad, whose only anxiety is about the contract price, as recently evidenced in a new Court House built in this place by a Stranger

Hoping it will meet your approbation

Sir,

I have just received your letter of the 16th inst., and am truly gratified to find that you have taken your measures regarding the New Mint Building so promptly, and that you have succeeded in obtaining a Contractor in whom you and the community around you have confidence, and who is willing to undertake the work at a fair price. — I say a fair price; for ~~I~~ I have reason to believe that a competent and responsible contractor ~~could~~ would have ~~been made~~ offered himself here, at the same rate.

I am surprised to learn, from your letter, that you have not received the drawings, from the Treasury Department. I asked that they should be forwarded, when I sent on the Specifications. I will again write to ~~the~~ remind the Secretary of my former request, made in consequence of his own offer. It will give me pleasure, at the same time, to inform him of the steps which you have taken.

I am advised, by an Architect here, to suggest the following changes in the specifications respecting the timbers of the roof. The object is to lighten the roof; and you will see that they are also for the benefit of the Contractor.

Roof:	Girders or ties,	for 8 × 12	use	7 × 10.

Mr. Caldwell states that, ~~he has ma~~ "under the instructions and specifications" that had been sent to him, he has made a contract for the erection of the New Mint Building with Mr. Henry C. Dear Sir,

This note will make you acquainted with Dr. J. R. Gibbon, Assayer of the Branch Mint at this place. Dr. Gibbon is a gentleman of science, who has been several years in the employment of the Government, but whose salary is now suspended under the operation of the clause in the annual appropriation bill making the appropriation for rebuilding the Mint at this place. By that act the Sec. of Treasury is directed to suspend the salaries of the officers of the Mint unless they are employed in supervising the construction of the work. It is believed that the service of Dr. Gibbon would be very important in erecting that portion of the building in which his operations are to be conducted, and that his services would be useful to the Government, at least for a portion of the time that may be consumed in rebuilding the Mint. He will explain more fully to you and the Sec. of Treasury — I write this note to you, having no special acquaintance with the Hon. Mr. Walker.

Your attention will oblige Dr. Gibbon, and especially your very obed't Sert.

Sir,

A short absence from the city has delayed an answer to your letter of the 21st inst.

In it, you state that the appropriation out of which I had applied for an advance of $1000 for the purchase of Machinery, tools, &c. for the Branch Mint at Charlotte N.C., had been made for the service of the fiscal year which commences on the 1st of July next, and that the remittance desired by me must be deferred until that time.

I think that a mistake has been committed in this statement by overlooking a proviso attached to this particular appropriation. It is "that the expenditure for the erection of the building and the purchase and repair of machinery be commenced as soon as practicable after the passage of this act." [Supply Laws, p. 61.] This essential condition was introduced, on motion of Mr. Bancroft, and at my suggestion. Without it, much important time must have been lost in the speedy execution of the work necessary for again putting the Charlotte Mint in operation.

With this explanation, I am the more anxious to renew the application made in my letter of the 21st inst.

In the specification I notice that the Roof of the Building is to be covered with Cedar shingles, I am informed that shingles of that description cannot be procured any where near to this section of Country, but that cypress or juniper shingles can be obtained in any quantities from the low country of this State or from South Carolina. I would respectfully suggest whether it would not be better, safer, and in fact more economical to expend the $5000 saved in the contract for building, in covering the Roof with Copper, if it could be done for that amount: should the suggestion meet your approbation, would you have the goodness to have an estimate of the probable expense made and forwarded to me, or should it be deemed inexpedient to cover with Copper, am I to insist that the shingles to be put on shall be of Cedar.

Sir,

I have addressed the Hon R. J. Walker, Secretary of the Treasury, a request that he would not suspend my salary, but consider it advisable to retain my services to superintend such portions of the internal structure of the Mint Building in North Carolina — as are necessary, ~~promptly~~ to resume the operations of Melting & Assaying.

Experience at the commencement of our duties in the Original Branch Mint proved the importance of early requisitions, and attention to the ordering, fabrication & forwarding of the various supplies necessarily sent from a distance — as well as the supervision of the furnaces fixtures & erections within the building — indispensable for the practical operations of the Mint.

These attentions devolved upon the officers in charge of the several appartments &, I think, a space of fully nine months was consumed in completing our arrangements, with the general appearance of the Officers of the Mother Mint — the presence of one of them at Charlotte — and the aid of drawings & experienced masons — although, at the same time, a Commissioner of the Building was superintending — and a separate contract was made for putting up the engine & Coining apparatus —

The Melting of deposits, for which the Treasurer is responsible — and their repay — of which I have charge — are very urgently called for — because when its value is ascertained with precision by assay, the Mints will find no difficulty in obtaining advances upon bullion.

If in your opinion my services would be important in preparing, forwarding — and superintending these arrangements — you would oblige me by employing me —

Much private property was destroyed in my opinion at the burning of the Mint — While almost all the public property under my charge was saved — and has been carefully arranged by me for future service.

I heard, with deep regret, by your letter of the 14th inst., of the death of Mr. John R. Bolton, the Coiner of your Mint. Mr. Bolton was, for many years, connected with this mint, and by his constant attention and amiable deportment, secured the confidence and attachment of the officers, to such a degree, that, on the recommendation of the elder Mr. Eckfeldt, he was appointed to the place which he so long held at Charlotte. It is a sad circumstance connected with his death, that he should have left his family helpless and unprovided for.

I have received, from the Secretary of the Treasury, a letter, of which I send a copy subjoined. I must state, with regard to it, that the opinion which he refers to as entrusted by me, was that given in my letter of January last.

Under the authority given to me, by the Secretary, I think it expedient that Dr. Gibbon should be considered as now in the service of the Charlotte Mint, and that his salary should recommence from the 1st inst., — the beginning of the present quarter. I shall write to him to-day to go without delay to Charlotte, and to yield to you all aid in his power in the construction of that part of the building and apparatus connected with his department. He is not, however, to have any independent control over them, but is in all matters to ask and receive your consent, before acting.

I have given it, as my opinion, to the Secretary of the Treasury, that the office of Coiner rendered vacant by the death of Mr. Bolton, ought to be filled, if possible, by a good mechanician, whose services might be made immediately available in preparing for the machinery, and afterwards in setting it up; and who, when you get into operation, might at last superintend and direct the mechanical affairs.

Dear Sir,

In a letter which I wrote to you, yesterday, I mention the views which I had communicated to the Secretary of the Treasury as to the qualifications which I thought ought to be required in the person elected to fill the place of Mr. Bolton.

I have to day had an interview with Dr. Gibbon, who is very urgent for the appointment of his son Robert, and who had before written to me, on the subject, from Washington. I have told him, frankly, of the opinion which I had given to the Secretary, and that I still retained it. I have, however, no machinist in view for the office, and may not be able to find one, at the same time competent to the task, and willing to go to Charlotte. In this event, it may be necessary to select another individual; and I ask you to give me your views, freely, and in full confidence, as to the propriety of selecting Mr Robert Gibbon. There are many circumstances that may bear upon the question. Present competency is hardly to be looked for, unless a selection were made from this Mint. I spoke on the subject to our foreman, Mr. George Eckfeldt, and was not surprised to find that he declined the situation. The close relationship of the proposed candidate to one of the present officers is an objection which is not without weight; but it was not considered fatal in the appointment, some years ago, of the son of our Chief Coiner as assayer. It must be remarked, however, that the Assayer has no judgement to pass on the work of the Coiner. But in your Mint, the Coiner is also the Melter & Refiner, and one of the most important and responsible functions of the Assayer is the passing of judgment upon the ingots. — Another important point, which we cannot overlook, is public opinion. What would be thought, in your country, of the appointment of Dr. Gibbon's son, — a youth untried and almost unknown, — to one of the most important offices in your Mint?

I invite your candid views on this matter. It interests you deeply; for an unhappy choice of Coiner at your Mint, would, in your present circumstances, be a most deplorable event.

Very respectfully &
Faithfully yours

Dear Sir

Upon application to the Hon. Emma Caldwell Superintendent of the Mint, to aid me in recommending my Son, Robert Gibbon, for the appointment of Coiner at this Branch — in the place of John K. Bolton deceased — I was informed that Doctor Pinckney Caldwell was a candidate for the situation.

My personal relations with Doctor Caldwell are so intimate that I yield, in his favor, the preferences I entertain for my Son.

Dr Caldwell is a gentleman of education & talent — with capacity, in my opinion, to render himself competent to all the duties of the Station he wishes to fill — Of an age & character well calculated for its responsibilities — acceptable to the people of the district — and whose condition of health renders such a position more desirable than the arduous practice of Medicine in which he has been engaged for many years — & in which most favorably known.

Sir

Your letters of the 16th & 17th Inst, have been recd.

In reply to that of the 17th as to the qualifications of a Coiner, I had entertained the same views as expressed by you that he ought to be a Machinist and had therefore left the recommendation of a Successor to Mr. Bollow entirely with you. Inasmuch however as you have been unable to get a Machinist, and asking opinion as to the propriety of appointing Dr. Gibbon Son Robert to the Office, I candidly reply that all the exceptions and reasons assigned by you would apply with much force in this section of the Country, to his appointment. The difficulty however I am glad will not have to be encountered as Dr. Gibbon has withdrawn all pretensions for his Sons appointment, and recommended my eldest Brother Dr. P. C. Caldwell of this place for the Office - to whose recommendation I cheerfully add my own, and whose appointment will be very acceptable to this Community - He is a Gentleman of education, a practising Physician and consequently well qualified for discharging the duties of Melter & Refiner, and I have no doubt that by a little instruction would in a short time become qualified to superintend and discharge the duties of the Office of Coiner.

In thus recommending my Brother, I beg to assure you that I do not urge his appointment - that I fully appreciate the delicacy of my situation and would not have done so, had I not been urged very importunately by his friends and laying aside the objections that obtain to the appointment of Mr. R. Gibbon it affords me pleasure to state that he is a Young Gentleman of good moral standing and character, but not much known as yet to the Community.

I am glad to be able to inform you, that we have now commenced rebuilding the Mint - the Contractors have got the Bricks burned and the stone cut ready for putting up.

Dr. Gibbon has returned, and reported him as ready to lend any assistance that may be necessary in his Department.

In one of your letters of the 17th you state that no authority has been given by the Secretary of the Treasury to employ the services of this Clerk, but that if I think it important and inform you so, you will apply to the Department for liberty to secure his immediate employment — I have no hesitation in saying that his services are important — that in fact he has rendered services ever since the passage of the Act without any compensation, and that I deem his services of more importance than those of either the Assayer or Coiner, being the reason of my former application to you.

Sir,

On a letter of the 11th ult. which I had the honor to receive from you, you say: make to me the following communication:

"As you state that in your judgment it is expedient that the Assayer and Coiner of the Branch Mint at Charlotte be continued in service for the purpose of superintending the construction of the furnaces and Machinery belonging to their respective departments, you are authorized to employ both those Officers, and you will be pleased to give them the necessary instructions."

Under the authority thus given, I immediately wrote to the Superintendent to take the Assayer Dr. Gibbon, into active service; and I have received from him, to-day, notice that "Dr. Gibbon has returned to Charlotte, and has reported himself as ready to lend any assistance that may be necessary in his department."

The Coiner, Mr. Bolton, died ~~and~~ ~~informed you~~ on the 4th of July; so that but one of the officers with regard to whom your authority may be given, could ~~secure~~ receive the advantage of it, or render the services which it required.

In a letter of the 29th of March ult. Mr. Caldwell says: "If I be retained as superintendent of the building, I shall make application, at the proper time, to retain the services of the Clerk, should you think it would be available." In a letter of the 31st ult., Mr. Caldwell asks me to ~~make this~~ apply for authority to this effect, and says: "I have no hesitation in saying that his [Mr. Strong's] services are important; that in fact he has rendered services ever since the passage of the act, without any compensation, and that I deem his services of more importance than those of either the Assayer or Coiner," ~~being the reason of~~

Under these circumstances, I respectfully ask your authority for the employment of the Clerk of the Charlotte Branch Mint. He has been connected with that establishment from its commencement, and has ~~filled the~~ performed the duties of his office most ably and faithfully. His ~~duties~~ business, if now employed, would be the keeping of the accounts, and in general the ~~co~~ performance of all those ~~offices~~ functions which belong to the officer called, ~~among~~ by Architects, the "Clerk of the works."

Dear Sir,

The applicant for the vacant place of Coiner at your Mint, mentioned in late letters from yourself and Dr. Gibbon, has, I am sure, many qualifications much to be desired in this office. But I still hold the opinion, which I took the earliest occasion to convey to the Secretary of the Treasury, that the Coiner to be chosen should ~~if possible~~ be a mechanician, if such a one could be found combining the other essential requisites. I have not now any such individual in view, but as the case is not pressing, I shall not commit myself in favor of any other. No person has yet received an appointment as Coiner, at any of the Mints, who was not a mechanic. He that had the fullest claims, on this ground, was the late Coiner of your Mint, and you know that his deficiency in this particular was an evil often felt.

Your letter of the 12th Inst, informing me, in reply to to mine of the 30th Ulto, recommending Dr. Caldwell for the Office of Coiner of this Branch Mint, that you state "held the opinion, that the Coiner to be chosen should be a Mechanician, of such a one could be found combining the other essential requisites" — allow me to say; as I did in mine of the 30th Ulto that I then & now, do cordially agree in your opinion, and that my reason for recommending my Brother was, that I thought him better qualified to discharge the duties of the Office and that his appointment would give greater satisfaction to the Community than that of Mr. Robert Gibbon — I therefore hope that you may be able to find a Mechanician in your City who would be qualified to discharge the duties of Coiner which will relieve me of a great deal of annoyance from applicants in this Country who are totally unfit, and put down any ill feeling which might arise from the appointment being made from here, and it would also relieve us from any embarrassment in the commencement of operations.

We are getting on very well, in fact I may say rapidly, with the rebuilding of the Mint, the bricks are very fine, and the only drawback upon us, is this unprecedented continuance of dry weather, which prevents the Contractor from having his lumber sawed as fast as he could wish, but he is getting along with it never the less.

I have placed Mr. Strange on active duty according to your instructions of the 12th Inst, for which he begs me to return to you his gratified acknowledgements.

Having long deferred my intended visit to your city and having now, some private business which calls me to the interior of New York; if it meet with your approbation, I should like to spend the Months of September

Your letter of the 20th Inst inquiring into the condition of our pump and well has been received.

The Well has been cleaned out, and is in such condition as can be used but will require some repairs before commencing operations - the wall towards the bottom has been somewhat injured, but can very readily be repaired - the valve or suction part of the pump is somewhat out of order, which can no doubt be put into proper trim in this place - the Well and pump are both in operation and are daily used by the masons for supplying them with water.

I am happy to be able still to advise you of the steady progress of the work in rebuilding the Mint; On the western wing of the Building they have nearly completed laying the cut stone, and will commence upon the arches early next week. Sir

Below you will find a copy of a report from Dr. Gibbon to me, relative to some alterations he wishes made so far as regards his apartments, which I refer to your decision.

"In looking over the draughts and specifications of the New "Mint - with the Contractor + Mason, some modifications have been suggested in my "apartments. By the plan of the Building there is a vault for the Melter adjoining the Assayers "Office - this can scarcely be necessary, as there are two large vaults in the basement "story attached to the Melting + Refining apartments, besides a vault in the second story "quite sufficient for the Coiner + Melter. If the door of what is called the Melter's vault opened "into the Assayers Office as a place of security for papers, as the upper story is not to be fire "proof, there could be a passage and door way, where the Assayers vault is now placed: "opening opposite to a door way in the rear of the building through which a supply of fresh "air might sometimes be obtained, for the Assayers Office is completely shut out from any "the winds which prevail in Summer - a matter of some importance in this climate.

"The position of the doors in the Assayers Office will I fear cause the "chimney to smoke and I wish to have them differently placed. The Mason urges that the "flues of the chimnies should be gradually enlarged from 9 inches to be 12 inches at "top to aid their draught. There appears to be some difficulty with the Mason in deciding "upon the outlet of the flues from the Assayers apartments as no chimneys appear upon the "draught of the elevation of the building - I think chimneys were intended to be elevated from "each of the Assayer's rooms, and they will require some height both for the safety of the roof "and for their draught. The provision to lathe and plaster the ceilings in the Assayers "apartments is in my opinion objectionable on account of the danger of plaster falling upon "bottles of acid, or upon the assay balances - We shall probably be obliged to use the rooms "before the plaster is perfectly dry, and the action of the Machinery or any trifling leak from "the shingles may detach the plaster, as we experienced in the old Building - I prefer as "a wooden ceiling overhead if it can be permitted.

"There will be required by the Masons and Carpenters, drawings
"for the elevation of the acid bottles, stands for the furnaces, and direction of the flues in the "Assay room, also a slab of soap stone of the proper proportions for the front of the Assayers
"sand bath, the old one being destroyed in tearing down the building – fire bricks, tyles &
"fire clay will be required also 2 kegs of white lead to paint the tables, closets for acids, and
"wooden fixtures in the Assay room, and a painted floor cloth for the Assayers weigh room.

"I call your attention to the supply of the different articles
"enumerated soon after the burning of the Mint, as wanting for the Assayers departments."

Upon an examination of the plan of the Building, I find no place allotted for an adjusting room, and no room to place it in unless it be in the room at present marked off as an Office for the Coiner, or in the store room in the basement immediately under the Treasurers Office, which latter room it is thought will be too damp and too near the Refinery. Should the Coiners Office as at present arranged be appropriated for the purpose, it follows that the Coiner will be deprived of an Office, unless he can obtain the one formerly occupied by Mr. Bolton and now allotted to Dr. Gibbons – in that case the alteration suggested by Dr Gibbon about opening a door from that room into the back passage will be unnecessary, as he himself will require the vault, intended to be dispensed with, for his own use in the assay room. An early suggestion from you relative to the arrangement of the adjusting rooms, and the propriety of the alterations mentioned by Dr. Gibbon would be desirable as they are getting on very rapidly in raising the walls.

I have paid a considerable amount for the removal and cleaning up of the Engine & Machinery. Should the amount be charged to the fund appropriated for the Machinery or to the Contingent Fund?

Dear Sir,

Doctor Pinkney C. Caldwell informs me that he no longer wishes to be an applicant for the situation of Coiner at this Mint — and requests me to nominate my Son Robert Gibbon in his nomination.

When the Superintendant of the Mint declined to recommend his brother, Dr Caldwell — he enquired his decision to recommend no one — for the station of Coiner — but he assured me he had no objection to my son.

As the season approaches when the selection of a new Coiner will be necessary — and as no appointment has yet been made — I again renew my application to you in favor of my Son Robert Gibbon as Coiner of this Branch Mint and I trust to your Kindness to aid me in this matter.

I am persuaded that he possess qualifications which will enable him to fulfil all the duties of this position with credit to himself and to this institution or I should be very sorry to have him receive the appointment.

My position and family make it very desirable for me to have my son associated with me in the Mint.

The checks which prevail are sufficient to prevent any exception to the appointment of father & son in these offices — especially after the precedent which existed so many years in the Philadelphia Mint in the case of the Messrs Eckfeldt.

Robert is acclimated here — and prepared to offer sufficient securities — for the faithful performance of the duties of the office if he should obtain it —

We are perfectly willing to decline the appointment unless you are satisfied of his ability and qualifications in every respect — but we hope you will not object to an arrangement of so much importance to us.

I was consulted by a distinguished friend as to the propriety of the appointment of Robert Gibbon to the office of Coiner, that his father Dr Gibbon was making constant & earnest application - and might possibly be successful. Now I replied that the person named was not of age - not qualified by education or experience that the Assayer & Coiner should be checks on each other, and stated that you should be conferred with & if it met your approbation I had nothing to say. I do not believe that it does, as it cannot meet that of Mr. Caldwell & the community at Charlotte. Perhaps a recommendation from you of a suitable person would be the best way to end this matter.

By ~~the~~ writing the ~~accompanying~~ enclosed letter on business of ~~respecting~~ the Charlotte Branch Mint, I am reminded of the propriety of informing you that I have not yet been able to meet with a suitable candidate for the vacant office of Coiner. I understand that the Assayer, Dr. Gibbon, is urging the ~~nomination~~ appointment of his son. I do not ~~deny~~ question the merits of this young gentleman; but I cannot overlook the facts that he is not a mechanician, and that he ~~there~~ is the son of the officer who would have to pass judgment on the fidelity of his official operations. Dr. Gibbon, in reply to this latter serious objection, presents the example of this Mint, in which, for several years, the Coiner and Assayer were father and son. But the cases are by no means parallel. The Assayer has no judgment to pass upon the ~~Coiner as~~ Coinage proper. It is the work of the Melter & Refiner which he is constantly called upon to test; and the Coiner of the Charlotte Mint has committed to him the functions of Melter & Refiner.

Sir

In reply to Mr. E.M. Feldts enquiry, I have to inform you that the Blacksmith of the Mint is still here - he has been employed by the Contractor of the Building in doing the blacksmithing work necessary for it, and that he can be had to assist Mr. E.M. Feldt at any time he may require him. There are one or two very good Mill Wrights who can also be obtained

I am happy to inform you that the walls of the Building are now nearly up, and that there is no doubt it will be covered in by the 1st January, so that you may commence forwarding the Machinery in order that it may reach here at that time, and that as little delay may be encountered in its erection as possible. I should like, if it be possible to commence operations by the beginning of March, but am strongly under the impression at present, that I shall be able to do so by the 1st April.

Sir

In my letter of the 21st Ulto, I informed you that I had no doubt that the Mint would be covered by the 1st January, and that that you might commence forwarding the Machinery so that it might reach here by that time. At that time there was about a fortnights work of brick work to finish before the Carpenters could commence upon the Roof, when there would have been no doubt of their ability to have covered the Building in the time specified, since then however, the cold has been so severe as completely to stop the Masons from working, consequently the Mint remains in about the same state as when I wrote to you.

It is unusual for us to have so continuous a season of cold as we have at present, and I am anxiously expecting it moderate to such a degree as to enable the Masons to proceed with their work. The delay occasioned by the cold weather to the Building need not prevent your forwarding the Machinery, but it would probably be as well that Mr. Eckfeldt should remain until the Building is covered, of which I shall give you notice at the earliest moment.

Sir,

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 21st inst., asking, on the part of the Committee on Finance, for my views with regard to the proposed establishment of Branch Mints at New York and Charleston.

As to the Branch at New York, I received from the Chairman of the Committee of Ways & Means of the House of Representatives, a series of inquiries, which, I believe, ~~seem to~~ comprise call for all the information which it is in my power to give, to enable ~~you~~ them with whom the question rests, to form a judgment as to the expediency of ~~the~~ establishing a Mint at that place. I take the liberty, therefore, of sending a copy of my reply to these inquiries, as I do not know how I could better convey to you the information which you require as to this Branch.

The question of a Mint at Charleston was brought before Congress at its last session, and under more favorable circumstances ~~which made it~~ than now exist; for it was proposed as a substitute for the Branch at Charlotte, of which the building and machinery had been destroyed by fire. My ~~views were~~ opinion was then asked by the ~~Committee~~ Chairman of the Committee on Finance of the Senate, and I send to you a copy of my reply, ~~as~~ my views are not changed. I think a third mint for the gold region of the ~~United~~ Southern States unnecessary. Those already established are abundantly competent to all the coinage that can be required for that region.

Sir,

We are very anxious to hear from you as to the condition of things at your Mint.

The machinery was shipped from here on the 19th of December, and we learned from the newspapers that the vessel arrived at Charleston in due time. Has the machinery or any part of it reached you?

In my letter to you of the 26th of December, I mention that the Machinists who were to go to Charlotte were kept back until information should be obtained from you as to your readiness to receive them. They are still waiting for this information. What has been done to the building since you wrote? Are the walls completed, and is the roof on?

Dear Sir

On 16th Inst I forwarded to Robinson & Caldwell, Chas.n, a parcel of Gold Bullion, with instructions to ship the same to You as early as possible, with a request that You would forward the proceeds to M. Morrison, Cashr of The Manhattan Company New York Cits for account of this Bank, as You have heretofore done in similar Cases. I requested R. & C. to forward You Bill of Lading when shipped. I am compelled to trouble You again, by advice that the Charlotte Branch will not commence operations for some months.

The Bullion is put up as heretofore, in parcels numbered, and each parcel desired to be assayed separately. For fear that the numbers may be obliterated in the transportation, I give You the weight, in Pennyweights, of each parcel.

		Dwts			Dwts
Number	1	2060	Number	8	979
	2	1661		9	141
	3	3617		10	258
	4	464		11	144

	6	127		13	199
	7	1055			2206

				Dwts	[illegible]

These weights are not, I suppose, precisely correct, but sufficiently accurate to guide You in case of the defacement of the numbers. If not defaced, the numbers themselves will guide the assay.

I will thank You to forward me the memorandum of assay, as soon as it is completed; and advise Mr Morrison of the proceeds.

I trust that the early resumption of business by the Charlotte Branch, will relieve me from the necessity of taxing You with similar trouble hereafter; though it may still be most convenient for me occasionally to forward to Your city.

In reply to your letter of the 17th inst I have to state that I have received information of the arrival of the Machinery for this Mint at Columbia, that I have received one waggon load of it, and have instructed my Agent to forward the balance with as little delay as possible.

The Walls of the building are completed and the frame of the roof is on, ready to receive the shingles. The rear building will be covered and the floor laid by the time that the Machinists can reach here, so it would be well that they should leave for this place as soon as they conveniently can.

The unusually severe and protracted cold weather has prevented the Contractor from working to any advantage and has been the cause of the delay in having the building covered to this late day.

Sir

Messrs Eckfeldt, Orr, and Birie arrived at this place on Monday Evg last, for whom I have provided very comfortable accommodations.

I am sorry to inform you that the Contractor has not been as good as his word in having the Building finished according to contract by the 1st of April. The rear-building however is in such a state of forwardness as to allow Mr Eckfeldt to proceed with very little delay in putting up the Machinery.

Inasmuch as the Contractor will have forfeited his contract, I shall after the 1st of April take such steps as I think will ensure a speedy completion of the Building — In justice however to the Contractor I must say that his work is faithfully executed, the only complaint that can be alledged against him is his dilatoriness, which has taken his friends as well as myself very much by surprize, even after making all allowances for the severity of the Winter.

I think it my duty to call your attention to one of the former workmen in the Mint, (Mr Peress) as to the propriety of his being restored to his former position when we commence operations. He is now, and has been for several Months, the Owner of several Refectories, (or as all call them gorg shops) in the country, and the Keeper of one in Town, and who expects to retain them as well as his situation in the Mint, for, from a conversation with me, he stated he would rather give up his situation than sell out his shops.

My decided opinion is, that he ought not to be in the Mint, while connected with those establishments — Should you coincide in opinion with me, I will thank you to look out for some suitable person to fill his place as Assistant to the Assayer. In selecting such a person, would it not be well, that he be also somewhat of a mechanic, as unfortunately mechanical ability is rather scarce among our men.

In full confidence, that our Building will be at least in such a state of forwardness, if not even completed, as to enable us to commence operations by the time the Machinery is set up and ready for running I have to beg you will forward at the earliest opportunity the following list of Articles

For the Refinery

½ Dozen Stone ware pans for the Refining Jars (deep) we have some, but they are too shallow.
1 Dozen 3 Gallon glass bottles. ½ Dozen 2 Gallon Do. ½ Dozen glass funnels. (3 large 3 small)
3 China or glass bales for Philtre. 2 setts of fixtures for Refinery, consisting of copper wire, chains & pullies. 2 setts of glass bottles for separating. 2 glass Pitchers.
½ Dozen glass Stirrers. 1.500 fire bricks. 500 Do. circular. 12 fire tiles 20×13 Inches
12 Do. 24×13. 4 fire clay slabs 33×20 with holes to contain the separating pans.
1 Bbl fine clay. 150 feet garden hose.

For Rolling Room.

1 Roaster & funnel. 4 Sieves No. 2. 1 brass wire small sieve. 1 Copper pan for waxing strips. 1 Do. for cleaning Do. 4 pair adjusting scales & weights. 1 pair of large adjusting scales for weighing 100 pieces. ½ Dozen brushes for adjusting Bench.

For Melting Room

1 Keg Salt-petre, 1 Dr. Borax. 1 Dr. pearl ash. 1 Sett of figures. —

W. Eckfeldt requests me to ask whether the Drawing Bench has been finished and shipped — if not at what time we may expect it.

Has any thing been done towards supplying articles for the Assay Department, a list of which was made out by Dr. Gibbons, and forwarded by me shortly after the burning of the Mint

Sir,

I am glad to learn, by your letter of the 20th, that Mess. Eckfeldt, Orr, and Peirie have arrived safely at Charlotte, and were ready to go to work in putting up the Machinery.

The delay of your Contractor is much to be regretted, and it is right that you should take, as you propose, such steps as will insure a speedy completion of the work.

I agree with you that it is disreputable in a workman of the Mint to be a proprietor, and much more a keeper, of Grog shops. I have lived in the South and know the nature of what they call confectionaries, and confectories. I should not hesitate to commend your proposed Course as to Mr. Torres, except that you do not mention having conferred with Dr. Gibbons. I have no doubt that you have done so, and that his sense of propriety has led him to join you in your intended step. Under this conviction, I will make immediate inquiries after a suitable man to replace Mr. Torres.

Your request as to the supplies for the refinery and rolling room shall be attended to.

I am not sure that we have the requisition for the Assay Department to which you refer. The only orders I know of are the following.

Set of Assay Weights for Gold
Pair of fine forceps
Apparatus for distilling water
Rest of Copper for Assay Pound
Carboy of Pure nitric Acid

If the Assayer desires any other articles, I beg to be informed of it.

Have you a supply of Crucibles, &c.

For steel and the like purchases, I have of your Contingent funds, only a balance remaining of $175.79. It may be necessary for you to request the Sec. of Treasury to issue his warrant in my favor, for a sum to be placed in my hands out of your appropriation for contingent expenses. I cannot now tell what amount will be required.

The draw bench will be ready for shipment in two or three days. The last trial of it was very satisfactory, but still showed that a trifling addition was necessary.

I have this day made a requisition on the Secretary of the Treasury in your favor for $500. which when received I will thank you to acknowledge with the date and numbers of the Draft and Warrant and by whom payable.

Mr. Eckfeldt and his Assistants are getting on very well, they have had a good deal of trouble with the Engine which they say was none of the best at first, but from the pains and labour now bestowed on it, I have no doubt it will be better than it ever was. The Coining and cutting Presses have been put up - the Boilers have been placed in their beds - the steam cylinder has been put in position, and the first section of the shafting and fly wheel have been put in their places -

Dr. Gibbon seems to be anxious to retain Mr. Ferres who has already transferred his interest in all his shops except the One in Town, and he is now making preparations to transfer his interest in it, as he wishes to return to his former position in the Mint, and against which I can urge no objections. He leaves this place for Philadelphia on Sunday next on some business of his own, when he will visit you at the Mint, and I should be pleased that you would conference with him on the subject.

The Contractor for the Building is getting along very well now, and I think will be ready to deliver it over by the time Mr. E. K. Feldt can put us into operation.

Dear Sir,

I received, two days ago, your letter introducing the Rev. Mr. Freeman, and I now wish to ask of you, in confidence, a question regarding him.

I have failed in my attempts to find an accomplished mechanician willing to accept the vacant office of Coiner at your Mint. One on whom I had fixed my mind, has been obliged to decline in consequence of ill health. It is essential to the early renewal of operations, that an appointment be made before the adjournment of Congress, as otherwise no appointment could be made before December next; the President, in the present case, losing his power of appointment in the recess.

I have heard that a nomination has been urged, and perhaps made, of a candidate from South Carolina. Is this true; and if so what are his name and his claims?

I recall, three days ago, your letter introducing the Rev. Mr. Freeman. He informs me that he had hinted of been a candidate for the Comptrollership. He appears to be an intelligent man, and has certainly a taste, at least, for mechanics. Our Chief Comptr is pleased with him, and thinks he could be made competent for the place, by some lessons here. Pray tell me, freely what you think of his claims.

Tell me, in general, your views as to this matter — so important to us both.

Very truly yours,

R. M. Patterson.

Sir,

In looking over my letter book, I find that I had forgotten your letter of the 22d ult., respecting the employment of watchmen at your Mint, and asking me to procure an item to be added to the estimate for the next fiscal year.

I entirely approve of the means you have taken for the security of the Mint, but I think it would be both inexpedient and unnecessary to interfere with the appropriation bill. At this late period it would require special action by the Committee of Ways and Means, - already overwhelmed with business, and I therefore would not ask it without necessity. But this cannot exist, because you must have a large excess of unexpended appropriations which can be lawfully applied to the object in question.

Very faithfully yours &c.

Sir

I have the honor to report the completion of the putting in place of the Machinery belonging to this Mint by Mr. G. Eckfeldt and his Assistants Messrs Pierre & Ore, and it is but right and proper that I should strongly express my satisfaction at the ability and fidelity with which the work has been performed.

I have paid them for their services up to the 10th Inst and allowed them $50 each to bear their expenses in travelling home. They leave here today with the best wishes and kindliest feelings of all attached to the Mint, and of that portion of the Community to whom they are best known.

I regret you have not succeeded in procuring for us a competent person to fill the Office of Coiner, as I suppose we will be able to commence operations by the 1st prox.o – if the appointment has been conferred on Mr. Bennett of S.Ca I have not been informed of the fact except by rumour. He is a Gentleman I have never seen and know nothing about.

As to Mr. Freeman, with all the respect that I entertain for him, I must say, that I do not think him qualified for the Office. He has been the Pastor of the Presbyterian Congregation in this Town, who became dissatisfied with him, and whose place has been filled with another, and I do not think he would give even the satisfaction to the Community as a Coiner which he gave to his Congregation as a Preacher. I therefore hope that you may be able at a very early day to find some person whom you may deem competent to fill the Office, as there is none in my knowledge whom I can recommend, and the presence of a Coiner being absolutely requisite at this time.

On the 15th April last I made a requisition on the Sec.y of the Treasury in your favor for $500, of which I advised you by the same mail. Have you received it? if so, be good enough to give me the number of the Warrant & Draft by whom payable, so that I may charge myself directly with the amount, and take it into the A/cs of the current Quarter.

Mint of the United States.
Philadelphia, June 9th, 1845.

Sir,

During
At a visit which was recently made at the Mint by the Hon. James A. Black and F. H. Elmore, my attention was called to a claim made in 1837, by Messrs. Reuben Perry and Thomas Ligon, the Contractors employed for building the edifice for the Branch Mint at Charlotte in North Carolina; and evidence was laid before me, and explanations given, which disposed me to modify somewhat the opinion which I gave on that occasion. Permit me then, to present to you a brief statement of the case.

The specifications in the Contract agreed to by Messrs. Perry and Ligon, called for a cornice around the building, of considerable projection, to be made of brick. In May 1836, Major James H. Combs, the Commissioner for the erection of the building, informed me that the Contractors had begged him to invite my attention to the cornice as laid down on the plan, ~~of the building~~, as a brick cornice, with the projection given in this plan, could not be made to stand; and they suggested the substitution of stone, either rough to be plastered, or dressed, as I might think fit. The difficulty thus ~~suggested~~ presented by the Contractors was referred by me to the Architect, Mr. Strickland, who had furnished the designs and he stated that the cornice could certainly be constructed in brick, properly moulded for the purpose, but that it might, perhaps, be more readily done by rough stone, to be plastered, and he presented a plan for this purpose.

~~From some communication~~

I am now satisfied that of such bricks as could be made of the clay found in the neighborhood of Charlotte, a cornice having the projection required for architectural effect, could not have been constructed with safety, and that a resort to the stone flags was necessary.

From the communications made to me at the time, I received the impression that the cornice actually constructed was made entirely of dressed stone, and objected to any remuneration for the extra cost of such a work, because it had never been authorized. I now find that there was but one range of stone flags used, and that these were but roughly dressed on their lower projecting surface, and that the body of the cornice was still made of bricks.

The question of the additional cost of the cornice thus constructed was referred by the Commissioner, (without authority, however, either from the Secretary of the Treasury or myself,) to three men who were deemed competent and impartial judges, and they declared, on the evidence of witnesses examined under oath, that "the amount paid for quarrying, wagoning 21 miles, cutting, and putting up the work, on the walls, was $1177."

In acceding to the suggestion made by the Contractors of using stone in the cornice, I had certainly no expectation that this change was to involve an additional expense, and such a consequence was not alluded to by them at the time. Yet there can be no doubt, I think, that the change was necessary, and that the additional cost was incurred. I would therefore, ~~if asked should the claim~~ withdraw my former objection to the claim, should it again be brought before Congress.

Two pair assay scraps. These were made by one of our own workmen, and are ready.

Two kegs white lead. These had never been ordered by you but will be sent.

those which Dr. Gibbon now has may not answer his purposes, until we can import a lot from Paris.

Sir

Your letter of the 20th Inst. relative to sundry requisitions made by Dr. Gibbon has been received.

As to the Assay weights for Gold, I am informed by Dr. Gibbon, that he has not one except the large weight, and that a small piece of that has been broken off, so that it be possible for Mr. Eckfeldt to spare us a set of his till you could replace them from Paris we will be thankful, as in the course of 3 weeks if a Coiner be appointed we may resume operations — should it be necessary however to send to Paris for these weights, there is no telling how long we may be delayed, and the Community here are very anxious for us to commence as soon as possible, as large quantities of Gold have been held up in expectation of our getting to work immediately.

I do not deem myself warranted in approving his requisition of 26th May for "a pair of plated Candlesticks, a box of spermaceti Candles, and a diamond pointed pen", as I cannot see that they are at all necessary for Assay operations. Should they be necessary, we can get them here when that necessity becomes apparent. I will however thank you to have a Gold Bullion Ledger prepared and sent to me as the old one is completely filled up.

Allow me to suggest to you the importance of having a Coiner, and to request that you will call the attention of the Secretary of the Treasury to the fact.

Since the putting up of the Machinery, I am very much at a loss where to locate the adjusting room, unless the Coiner takes the Office formerly occupied by Mr. Bolton and now allotted on the plans to Dr Gibbon, then the Office now allotted to the Coiner, would make a very excellent and convenient adjusting room, as it is entirely too small for a Coiners Office, and especially if the large scales are placed in it. — this alteration you will observe would still allow Dr. Gibbon two rooms, which I should think would be sufficient for the operations of the Assayer.

I ask your approbation of this alteration in order to avoid any difficulty with Dr. Gibbon, as he is very averse to regard any suggestion or alteration of mine without your approbation. An early answer on this point is requested as we are preparing the fixtures —

You will find in my letter a remark respecting an other Applicant, which you may not understand. The gentleman in question is Mr. David W. Stone, formerly President & Cashier of the Bank at Raleigh N.C. He was introduced to, brought a warm letter from Senator Haywood, and a very kind letter recommending him to Mr Bayard from the President, which was sent to me with the consent of the President. Mr. Stone is a most respectable man, and no doubt an excellent accountant, but he has no knowledge even of the elements of practical mechanics, and therefore could not, I am sure, fill the duties of the Office to the satisfaction either of himself or the government. He has considered my opinion

~~to this effect, which I frankly communicated to him, as conclusive, and has, I believe, withdrawn his pretentions. Thus long had I high opinion of him, and it was not without great pain that I perceived that I be bound to an very duty in his case.~~

Sir,

I have to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 28th ult.

In consequence of the information which you have conveyed to me from Mr Gibbons, Mr Eckfeldt has agreed to spare him a set of gold assay weights; and we will order a new set for him to replace them.

Your order for a gold bullion beam will be attended to.

I had not failed to call the attention of the Secretary of the Treasury, and through him that of the President, to the pressing importance of an early appointment of a Coiner for your Mint. When I first wrote after the completion of your Machinery, I supposed, from information which had been given to me, that a nomination had been made, and that the delay had occurred in the Senate. I have since learned that this was not the case; and on the 6th inst., I recommended the appointment of a gentleman named John Brooks. His qualifications are all that we could ask. He has been six years in the Coining department of the New Orleans Mint, and, for the last three years, a foreman. He is an excellent Machinist. He has so fully the confidence of the Super-assistant and Coiner, as to have been several times entrusted with the management of the whole department, during the absence of the principal officer. He appears to be about 30 years old, and has all the appearance and manners of a gentleman. He has recently married the daughter of Mr. Rufus Tyler, the first Coiner of the late Mr. Rufus Tyler, the first Coiner of the New Orleans Mint.

I have been looking carefully over the plans of your building and I see fully the whole force of your remarks respecting the accommodation of the Coiner. If that closet fortuitimed office in the back passage be set apart as an adjusting room, (and there seems to be no other place for one,) the Coiner would be actually without an office. This must not be, and I can see no remedy for the evil except that which you suggest. I regret that it should be necessary to deprive Dr Gibbon of one of the apartments of his suite; but with this step he would still have a very good office adjoining his laboratory, — and without it the Coiner would be without any office at all. I feel obliged therefore to give my approval of the change, and I am sure that Dr Gibbon will not fail to see the necessity for it. A vault is, I see, appropriated to the Assayer, which opens into the room now proposed to be occupied by the Coiner. If it be deemed necessary that the Assayer have a vault, and if he desire to have it separated from the Coin's Office, this may be done, as you will see, by changing the place of the door.

The Superintendant of the Mint informs me it is your request that I should give up for the use of the Coiner — the appartment appropriated as my office and weigh room.

The one formerly employed as a weighing room I design as a laboratory. In it we propose to distil water — and acid — if necessary to purpose fine silver and other essential work.

This room is exposed to all the afternoon sun — and, in summer, I have often been obliged to refer to the Office upstairs to complete my calculations.

My health has suffered in this climate and as my family reside out of town I sometimes sleep in my office, when business pressed, in order to have the freshness of the evenings & mornings to complete my work. The arrangement proposed would prevent this — much to my own inconvenience and that of the depositors.

I therefore trust that such other distribution as the size of the building will allow — may be made for the accomodation of the Coiner.

Sir,

In a letter to you written on the 6th inst., I called your attention, and through you that of the President, to the fact that the resumption of operations at the Charlotte Mint was now prevented only by the vacancy in the office of Coiner; and I took the liberty of suggesting the name of Mr. John B Brooks, as that of a person in every way competent to fill the vacant place. I was sent to you on Saturday a letter from the Coiner of the New Orleans Mint, and from Mr. Brooks himself fully confirming my opinion of Mr. Brooks and I also sent a letter from Mr. Brooks himself, stating his willingness to accept the office if appointed.

May I ask to be informed as to the fact whether this, or any other, nomination has been made? And any inquiry as to the present condition of the Charlotte Mint

Sir

I have the honor to inform you that the Mint Building will be completed by the 1st August next, and that in the course of 10 days or so thereafter, we might commence operations if we had a Coiner, and the Assay weights for Dr. Gibbon.

As it is probable, that even were a Coiner appointed now, it would be at least a month before he could report himself here, I should like to avail myself of that time in taking a trip to the Mountains for the benefit of my health. Should you think however that there is a probability of his being here at an earlier day, I would not leave, and will therefore thank you upon receipt of this letter to inform me at what time he may be expected. Be pleased also to inform me what direction you have given in forwarding the Assay weights for Dr. Gibbon.

Sir,

I have to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 16th inst., and would be very glad were it in my power, to propose to the Superintendent any arrangement which would enable you to retain three rooms at the Mint, and yet leave a suitable office for the Coiner. I have again examined the plans, and find myself unable to solve the problem. It cannot be asked that the Coiner and Melter & Refiner should be without an office, and I can see no mode of giving him one except that which has been suggested; and I have, therefore, to express my regret that it should subject you to any inconvenience.

Sir,

I have just had a visit from Mr. Williams, a merchant of Charlotte, introduced to me by Mr. Meigs. He asked for a set of assay-weights for your Mint. I have to inform you that they were shipped from here on the 23d inst., to reach you via Charleston, as heretofore. At the same time, we sent rolls, blanks, files, &c., ordered, as I think, through Mr. Geo. Eckfeldt. The assaying scales required by you are ready, and will be sent by the next opportunity.

Mr. Williams, who was sometime at Washington, learns from Mr. Black of S.C., that a person named Graham was under nomination for your vacant office of Coiner. I was distressed to hear the opinion given of this candidate by Mr. Williams. According to this information given, Mr. Graham is already an old man, — is wholly uneducated, — and is not a mechanist in the sense usually received. If this be so, his appointment must be a great misfortune. I pray you to inquire into this matter, and to write to Washington without delay. Indeed, I fear it may be already too late.

Mr. Williams speaks highly of a Mr. John Gluys. If my nominee, Mr. Brooks, is not approved, (as seems to be the fact,) perhaps Mr. Gluys might. What do you know of him?

I have felt a great anxiety about this appointment. The success of your Mint depends greatly upon it.

Personal visit from Edward H. Bissell, from Charlotte N.C.

Says the appointment of Mr. Emmor Grahame gives universal dissatisfaction. That he is a filthy blasphemous and very pernicious. He is also very inefficient.

He is, however a pretty good mechanic, (a mill wright,) and has much information.

He is about 55 years old. was born in Chester County, Pennsylvania. Now lives in South Carolina, about 40 miles from Charlotte. Has a family there.

Has been in partnership, in certain iron works, with Messrs. Black and Gilmore Elmore. was appointed in consequence of the urgent recommendation of Mr. Black.

This character of report corresponds with that given to me by Mr. Williams.

Of the same date with this I have written to the Secy of the Treasury strongly and distinctly dissenting from the appointment of either Mr. E. Graham or Mr. John Gluyas as Coiner of this Mint whose names I have been informed have been presented to the President for the Office.

Be pleased to aid me in urging the immediate appointment of Mr. Brooks as we are now, I may say, only delayed, from getting to work for want of a Coiner.

Sir,

I received from your Mint on the 8th inst. a requisition for a number of "articles for the Coining Refining & assay departments"

The following have been already forwarded

One set turning tools for wood
Packing yarn (& rags)
Bundle nail iron
Six sheets Russia Iron
Cask black lead pots
12 carboys nitric acid
2 " sulphuric
6 coal baskets
6 Iron bound buckets
Adjusting files & rat-tailed
Two foot carpenters rule: (with pair compasses)

The remaining articles will soon be sent with the following exceptions, however.

"Ten carboys of pure nitric acid for alloying" are asked for. Now one carboy was sent by us on the 9th of July, & I am sure that no more can be needed. Let me refer you to my further correspondence on the subject. At all the other Mints the assays refine, by distillation &c. & this ought to be done at yours.

"Copper pan for rasing strips". The use of such a pan has long been abandoned at this Mint. The process connected with it was found to load the strips too heavily with wax. We therefore, now, simply melt the wax in a tin pan, dip a large rag into it, and then draw the waxed rag over the strips, warmed as heretofore. This simple process is found to be much better than the old one.

"30 gallons Spirm oil & one box soap". You will please to order for the Mint from Charleston.

I can see no reason for sending such articles from Philadelphia to Charleston, when they must be as cheap there as they are here.

It is important for me to let you know that this order found us out of funds from your Mint. You must therefore send me as much money at least as will pay for the articles, say $400.

I have presented my accounts for Machinery &c. to the department. The whole amount was $5,572.97

Mint U.S. Philad.ᵃ Oct. 21, 1846

Sir,

Your letter of the 10th inst. was duly received.

I have asked the appropriations for 1847-8 according to your Estimates, — not making however a separate item for the night-watch, but including it in the following form. "Incidental & contingent expenses, including fuel, materials, stationery, repairs, wastage of gold, and watching."

In presenting your estimates you do not seem to have taken into view the amount of existing appropriations which you may have available, at the close of the present fiscal year. I presume that there will certainly be such a surplus at your command, and that it will even be considerable. You aware that appropriations are available for two years after the expiration of the calendar year in which the act making them has been passed.ˣ Let me then beg that you will ascertain as nearly as practicable what this balance is likely to be, in the several items of appropriations, and that you report them to me. It is not yet too late to correct & reduce your estimates; and it would certainly be right & desirable to do so if possible. In consequence of the existence of balances of prior years and certain funds accruing, the item of appropriation asked by me for the incidental & contingent expenses of this Mint for 1847-8, is but $250.

I have received this morning from the Treasurer of the United States a draft to my order for five hundred dollars, on "the United States Mint, Philadelphia, No. 4114, on Try Wt No. 6679."

This draft was given in compliance with your requisition, in my favor, of the 10th inst., and the amount is now placed to your credit on my books. — The request which you made as to the time of my presenting your quarterly account is reasonable & will be complied with henceforward. — I regret very much the illness of Dr. Gibbon of which you ~~have~~ informed me in your letter, and I hope that you will keep me informed of his condition & of the progress of operations in your Mint.

Sir

As to the suggestion contained in your letter of the 21st Inst, relative to the estimates of expenses for this Branch of the Mint, for the fiscal year 1847 & 1848, I beg to remark, that at the time I made the estimates, I was aware that there would be a surplus from the appropriations for rebuilding the Mint and for Machinery, but am under the impression that the law alluded to by you in the Mint Pamphlet, has been repealed so far as regards transfers of appropriations from one object to another, but even if it has not been repealed, there will be considerable expense to be incurred over and above the Contract prices for building, such as putting up fences, putting the Lot in order and many other extras, which I think will come very near consuming the surplus of the Building appropriation but should it not, would it not be as well, that any surplus that may remain from that fund and the surplus from the Machinery should go into the sinking fund, and let the appropriations be made on the estimates submitted.

As to the appropriation for Contingent Expenses, I sent you in the last draft from the Treasury Department, the balance remaining to my credit for the year 1844 & 45. (for 1845 & 1846 no appropriation for Contingent Expenses, or for Pay of Labourers was made) so that I have for the current fiscal year, only the entire of the appropriation for Contingent Expenses, and therefore think, that the estimates submitted to you had better remain as they are.

The sickness of Dr. Gibbon has been a great draw-back upon us, but I am happy to inform you that he has so far recovered as to be able to attend the Mint for the last two days, and make a few assays - I have received nearly $200,000 worth of Bullion during this Month, - and that we have had an opportunity of trying the Machinery, (which I am happy to inform you, with the exception of the draw bench works most excellently,) in having made a Coinage of $12.920.

Sir

I have the honor to enclose you a Statement of the amount of Bullion received and Coinage executed at this Branch of the Mint for the Month of October last.

The sickness of Dr. Gibbon has been a great draw back to the operations of the Mint, I have been waiting from day to day in expectation of his being able to assay, but as you will perceive I have been compelled to forward my Report with the largest portion without assay — and who is still so weak that it is hard to say when he will be able to get fairly to work, but as soon as made I will forward them.

I acknowledge the receipt of 3 boxes containing Dies numbered 1. 2 & 3.

Sir

I have the honor of inclosing my Report of the Amount of Gold Bullion received and Gold Coinage executed at this Branch of the Mint for the Month of November last.

The state of the Assayers health is such, that it is with difficulty he can make the assays for individual Depositors, as you will perceive that three deposits are still unassayed.

I am still unable to complete my Report for the month of October, and am afraid, I shall not be able to make my Quarterly Returns at the end of the year. The two deposites reported as unassayed in that statement were made by two Banks — the larger one consisting of 76 assays — 30 of which have been made — the other consisting of 31 assays none of which have been made as I preferred having the deposites of individuals, who were less able to wait for their money, made at the times the Assayer felt himself able to assay, which has been but seldom and at long intervals.

The 4.th Section of the Mint Act, I see provides for such a case as exists at present in this Mint — it authorises "the Director of the Mint with the consent of the Officer to appoint some person attached to the Mint to act in place of such Officer during his absence", I therefore suggest that you appoint some person attached to this Mint to act in Dr. Gibbons place during his sickness, and that if he refuses to give his consent, that so much of the law as requires the consent of the Officer be repealed, in order that the usefulness of this Establishment may be preserved.

I have the honor to be

Rec'd 14th 9 Dec. 1846

Mint U.S.
Dec. 4, 1846.

Sir,

I have just received your letter of the 1st inst., and am distressed to learn that the sickness of the Assayer continues to be such as to interrupt so seriously the performance of his very important duties.

As a temporary remedy for this evil, you call my attention to a provision in the 20th Sect. of the Mint Act, which authorizes "the Director of the Mint, with the consent of the officer, to appoint some person attached to the Mint, to act in place of such officer during his absence;" and you suggest that I should appoint such a person.

In reply to this suggestion, I have, in the first place, to refer you to the 5th section of the Branch Mint Act of March 3d, 1835, which enacts, "That all the laws, and parts of laws, made for the regulation of the Mint of the United States, and for the government of the officers and persons employed therein, ... shall be, and the same are hereby declared to be, in full force, in relation to each of the Branches of the Mint, by this act established, so far as the same shall be applicable thereto."

In the enactment of this enactment, the Superintendent of a Branch Mint, occupies the place of the Director of this Mint, and accordingly the temporary appointment of an individual to fill Dr. Gibbons place, during his illness, is devolved upon you, not me.

But a more important view of the case is that which regards the selection of a person the Assayer ad interim. Is there any man attached to your Mint who is competent to fill this place. You have named no one; nor does it seem to me at all probable that there can be found a one, unless perchance it may be Mr. Torres. If he has had practice in the art, he would be, I presume, in all respects, a proper person to select.

As to the consent required of the principal officer, I do not think that it ought to be dispensed with; nor can I suppose it possible that it would be withheld without any sufficient reason. The provision which authorizes a substitute, in the case of necessary absence, is decidedly a benefit to the officer. If he should wilfully refuse his consent to the appointment of a suitable person, the remedy rests with the President.

I beg you to keep me informed as to every thing relating to this important subject.
